

PRESSURE USED ON RATING BOARDS

Witness in Veterans Bureau Investigation Charges They Were
Swayed by Many Influences

SENATE HEARING IS RESUMED

Former Director Charles R. Forbes
Will Not Take The Witness Stand
Until Wednesday

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 29.—"Dishonesty, bad judgment and carelessness" were widespread in the rating of the compensation to disabled veterans by district offices and the central office of the Veterans' bureau, Dr. R. F. Souther charged today before the senate committee investigating the bureau.

Dr. Souther, a member of the special committee appointed by General Hines, present director of the bureau, to correct abuses, told the senate committee ratings had worked great injustice both to the veterans and to the government.

Souther said rating boards had been swayed by various kinds of pressure. He mentioned personal interviews by congressmen and senators which had caused undeserved ratings of compensations to be paid veterans who could enlist such support.

Testimony regarding real estate deals in connection with the purchase of hospital sites was scheduled for today as the senate committee investigating alleged maladministration of the veterans bureau by former Director Charles R. Forbes, resumed its inquiry.

Colonel Forbes will not take the stand until Wednesday to defend himself from the sensational charges made against him last week, according to present plans of the committee.

Matt O'Brien, San Francisco architect, who General Hines, present director of the bureau, testified last week received $64,000, for plans for the hospital at Livermore, Calif., which were never used, was here today and was expected to testify.

A great deal of dissatisfaction was expressed in veterans circles in California concerning the manner in which veterans bureau officials proceeded in this deal. Veterans organizations following a local investigation, issued a report from which General O'Ryan read into records of this hearing the charge that the whole affair has been "shady."

Every witness called from now to the end of the investigation will be subjected to searching examination by General O'Ryan in an effort to throw further light on the sensational charges made by the witness, Elias H. Mortimer at the last hearing.

Mortimer related a long circumstantial story concerning his relations with Forbes and charged that Forbes accepted money from favored contractors, that Forbes proposed to

WARREN T. NEWKIRK IS DEAD IN FLORIDA

Former Rushville Man Expires at Ft.
Pierce and Remains Will be
Brought Here For Burial

FORMER RAILROAD EMPLOYEE

Warren Thomas Newkirk, age 40 years, a native of this city, died at his home in Ft. Pierce, Fla., on last Friday and his remains will be brought here for burial, arriving Tuesday. The deceased was born here on January 22, 1883, and attended school here and at Richmond, where he also formerly resided. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Newkirk, and his mother survives, with his widow, and a sister, Josephine Newkirk Stevens and his brother, Carlisle Newkirk of this county.

During his employe with the St. Paul and Kansas City shortline railroad, he established a town at 37 miles south of Des Moines, and besides surveying it, and practically building it, he named it Melcher, after a vice president of the line.

He moved to Florida in 1922 where he purchased a fruit grove, and where he resided until his death.

SEVERAL CASES DISPOSED OF

Judgment Rendered In Suits Filed
Before Squire Stech

Several court cases were disposed of Saturday in Justice Stech's court. In the case of Sidney L. Hunt against Richard Floyd, complaint on account, the court rendered judgment for $7.05 for the plaintiff.

The suit of Sarah Giffin and Capitola Dill against Howard Richardson, a complaint for possession and damages, the plaintiffs dismissed their suit, setting out that the defendant has vacated the property involved.

The account suit of Sidney L. Hunt against Jesse Stout, was heard by the court and the plaintiff was awarded judgment in the sum of $72.30. An account suit filed by E. E. Polk against K. L. Benson was continued by agreement of the two parties, until a later date.

BACK FROM TRIP AROUND WORLD

Winnifred And Minnie Muire Gone
Six Months to a Day, Traveling in Twenty Countries

BUY GOODS FOR THEIR SHOPS

Hear Many Harrowing Experiences
From Japanese Earthquake Refugees in Yokohama

The Misses Winnifred and Minnie Muire arrived home Saturday from a trip around the world, buying for their shops here and at St. Augustine, Florida, and on the last leg of their journey home, they spent a few hours in Yokohama.

The Rushville women talked with many earthquake refugees in Yokohama and on the boat returning home, as well as on the train from Vancouver to Chicago, whose passengers were all refugees with the exception of the Misses Muire and two Filipino trained nurses coming to this country to study.

The Misses Muire were gone six months to a day and traveled in twenty countries. They were passengers on nine steamships and thirty trains and spent sixty-five days of the six months on the water.

It was the third trip around the world for Miss Winnifred Muire, and the first for her sister, who marveled at the beauties of the Orient, but came back home convinced that there is no place in the world like the United States.

"No one need ever tell me again that it is cheap to live in other countries," she said, "because I have found out differently."

Miss Muire said that the people of every land tried to "hold up" Americans, with very few exceptions.

Miss Minnie Muire will go to St. Augustine soon to open up their shop for the winter season and Miss Winnifred will remain here to unpack, mark and ship the scores of pieces they brought back from the Orient, Egypt and the Bible lands. The Rushville women also bought some stock for other importers.

As the steamship approached Yokohama, Miss Winnifred Muire said, passengers were unable to understand what the iron work out in the sea was, but they found when the boat docked that it was the frames of automobiles that people had driven into the sea to escape the flames.

Others rushed into the water after the first shock, standing in the sea up to their neck, and when the shore sank eight feet, thousands saved from the flames were drowned.

The Misses Muire heard first-hand stories of the horrifying experiences of those who passed through the disaster and saw the havoc caused by the earth tremors in Yokohama, where no building remains standing except the tower erected to commemorate the opening of the port of Yokohama. The Japanese regard this as portentions.

"The Japanese people act as if they were stunned by the blow," said Miss Winnifred Muire. "We were told that they never showed their feelings, never gave evidence of their grief, even when their relatives were killed and their savings of a lifetime were destroyed, but they were slow to recover. It was four days after the disaster before the Japanese people began to search for bodies and clear

LAST WEEK TO PAY TAXES

Collections Will Have To Average
$35,500 If All Are Paid

With only a week remaining to pay taxes, without a penalty being invoked, taxes still due on the fall installment at the opening of business at the county treasurer's office this morning amounted to $248,500. This means that collections will have to average $35,500 a day if taxes are paid in full as there are seven more days of the taxpaying season, counting today.

Collections Saturday amounted to $15,156.34, bringing the total paid on the fall installment to $191,494.56.

The treasurer's office will be open Friday and Saturday night of this week and Monday night of next week to accommodate those who cannot call during the day.

AMASSA BUNDY DIES AT HOME NEAR CARTHAGE

Deceased Was A Resident Of Ripley
Township Practically All
Of His Life

EMPLOY OF THE BOX FACTORY

Amassa Bundy, age 75 years, well known resident of Ripley township, died this morning at four o'clock at his home near Carthage, following an illness of 9 months with leakage of the heart. The deceased was born March 5, 1848 near Gwynneville and had spent almost all of his life in Ripley township.

He had been employed for 17 years at the box factory in Carthage. He was married in 1875, and his widow survives. Besides the widow, he is survived by seven children, who are Earl of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Mrs. Myrtle McKinnon of Koopenai, Idaho; Arle of Lawton, Oklahoma; Ora of Ogden, Utah; Warren of Gary; Wilma of Carthage and Loren of Pyatt, Ark. All children are expected home for the services.

The funeral will be some time Thursday at the Methodist church in Carthage, in charge of the Rev. Merritt Laehlan, and definite arrangements will be announced later.

HURT BY HORSE'S KICK

Jerry T. McDaniel of near Carthage, who was accidentally kicked by a horse several weeks ago, has taken a turn for the worse, and was not as well over the week-end as expected.

MEYER-KISER BANK

GETS BOND ISSUE

Brings Premium of $145.50, Proceeds to be Used For Purchase of Memorial Park

ONE LOCAL BANK A BIDDER

The $24,000 bond issue for the purchase and improvement of Memorial park was sold this afternoon in the council chamber to the Meyer-Kiser bank of Indianapolis at a premium of $145.50.

The Rushville National bank, the only local institution that offered a bid, was seven dollars lower in the list with a bid of $138.50. The local bank was the successful bidder a month ago, when the bonds were sold, but the sale was not held legal at that time on account of faulty advertising.

The other bidders today besides the two mentioned were the Fletcher-American Company of Indianapolis for $33; the Thomas D. Sheerin Company of Indianapolis for $107; and The Union Trust Company, also of Indianapolis, for $144.

The bond sale was authorized for the purpose of buying and improving the additional 34 acres of park land acquired by the city from Ed Churchill, and which adjoins the present city park to the north.

MISS EMMA GORDON EXPIRES

Former Dry Goods Store Clerk Ex-
pires At Home Here Today

Miss Emma Gordon, age 74 years, died this morning at eleven o'clock at her home, 315 North Morgan street, death resulting from a three weeks illness of a complication of diseases.

Miss Gordon was a native of Franklin county, but had spent the greater portion of her life in this city. Besides a half brother, Taylor Gordon of Shelbyville, she is survived by a cousin, Henry Wilson of this city, with whom she made her home, and several other distant relatives survive. She was a clerk in Rushville dry goods stores for several years.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence in charge of the Rev. H. W. Hargett, and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

ASKS JUDGMENT OF $8,200

W. H. Amos Sued Edgar M. Thompson Et Al On Notes

Willard H. Amos is plaintiff in a suit filed today in the circuit court against Edgar M. Thompson, et al., an action on a note and to foreclose a mortgage, and for the appointment of a receiver, demanding $8,500 judgment.

The suit involves the sale of a farm in this county and for which notes are said to be overdue in the transaction.

This morning in court Judge Sparks heard the case of Grace Utter against Charles H. Pettis, a suit to modify the divorce decree granted months ago, and the week the defendant, was ordered reduced allowance paid the plaintiff by ed from $4 a week to $2 a week.

SHOOTS GUARD, CAUGHT AFTER RUNNING BATTLE

John Chenoweth Wounds Penal Farm
Official When Refused Permission
to See Prisoner

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 29.—After a running battle with a posse of Greencastle citizens and guards from the Indiana state farm, John Chenoweth, a former prisoner at the farm was placed in jail today charged with attempting to kill Arthur Fry, guard.

Chenoweth, who was discharged from the farm last September, returned to the farm early today and attempted to see one of the prisoners without getting permission. When Fry stopped him, he drew a gun and shot Fry in the leg, according to prison officials.

Chenoweth engaged in a running battle with prison guards as he fled. Citizens of Greencastle joined in the pursuit. He was captured a mile south of the farm after he had been wounded in the arm by a bullet from a guard's gun.

Chenoweth was sent to the farm from Lawrence county. Physicians said Fry's wound was not serious.

FOR APPENDICITIS

Miss Edna Wagoner, daughter of W. C. Wagoner, underwent an operation Saturday morning at the Dr. Sexton hospital for appendicitis. She is improving nicely.

TWO CALLS ARE ANSWERED

No Damage Done, But Firemen Re-
main to Watch Burning Leaves

Two calls were answered Saturday by the fire department, with no loss reported in either case. In the afternoon about 3:40 the chemical truck went to Sexton and Seventh streets, where people were reported to be burning leaves after the hours set aside for that purpose, and the leaves were said to be close to a building.

Saturday night shortly before eight o'clock a fire burned out at the Wiltse Company store in Main street, and firemen remained on the scene until danger had passed. The Saturday night crowd surged around the fire trucks, and it would have been a difficult thing for the company to have laid a line of hose had it been necessary.

M'CRAY INQUIRY RESUMED TODAY

Only One Witness Is Heard, How-

PROBE TO COVER WHOLE STATE

Governor McCray Gives Explanation
Of Dealings With State Board Of
Agriculture

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., October 29.—After one witness had been heard by the Marion county grand jury investigating the affairs of Governor McCray today, the probe was halted until tomorrow because Charles W. Moores, special prosecutor, in charge of the investigation, was not strong enough to push the inquiry further.

Identity of the one witness heard today was not revealed. "The investigation will be a long one," Moores said. "Witnesses from all parts of the state are to be heard, and we must wait until they can come to Indianapolis."

It is known that the jury has already heard the stories of persons interested in notes endorsed by the governor.

Affidavits to the effect that some notes sold by McCray without the knowledge or consent of the persons whose names appear on them have been made in connection with suits pending against the governor at Kentland.

In addition to the question of notes, the grand jury may go into the sue by the Governor of funds

CHURCH DATING BACK TO CIVIL WAR BURNS

Blue River Baptist House of Worship Destroyed at Loss of From $7,000 to $8,000

SPARKS SET ROOF ON FIRE

The Blue River Baptist church, in Center township, which dated back to the civil war, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon at a loss estimated at between $7,000 and $8,000.

The loss is total as no insurance was ever carried on the building, which was a very substantial structure, being constructed of yellow poplar.

The blaze is thought to have started from sparks falling on the dry shingle roof. Charles Brown, the janitor, built a fire in the church Saturday afternoon in preparation for a meeting to be held there that afternoon, and about two o'clock the roof was found in flames. It was impossible to save the structure as the fire was soon beyond control and no means of fighting the fire was available.

Plans were being considered today for rebuilding the church. It was erected in 1861 after a division in the congregation, just before the war, which resulted in a law suit. The winning side was represented in court by General P. A. Hackleman.

W. E. Gill of Cloverdale, who is a state representative, is the pastor of the church.

COUNTRY NEEDS VERY FEW LAWS

Reports Reaching Washington Indicate Sentiment Favors Enacting
Little Legislation

RAIL PROBLEM IS MAIN ONE

General Opinion Prevails, However
That No Changes Are Required
Now—Internationalists Busy

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Washington, Oct. 29. — Reports that come to Washington from different sections of the country indicate a desire that Congress shall do little in the way of legislation at the coming session. The last Congress enacted more constructive legislation than any other in history, particularly legislation demanded by the farming interests, and it is felt that the industries of the country should be given opportunity to adjust themselves to present conditions without being harassed by changes or threatened changes.

The transportation problem is one of the most important before the country today. There are some who would make this a subject of legislation, but the more general opinion is that no legislation whatever is needed. The only complaint is that regarding freight rates, particularly on wheat. There is no charge that the railroads are earning an exorbitant profit. In fact it is generally admitted that the profits are too small to invite money into railroad investments. But though there is no complaint that the railroads are earning too much, farmers want freight rates on wheat reduced and rates on some other commodities raised to make up for the reduction on grain. All this, however, is a matter of administration under the Interstate Commerce Commission and requires no legislation.

Taxation is another important subject discussed by the public, and the leaders in both the legislative and the administrative branch of the Government are considering whether legislation on that subject should be undertaken at the coming session. There is no dispute as to the desirability of reducing taxes. There is doubt, however, whether it will be practicable to make a reduction during the coming session. It is deemed certain by many that a bonus law will be enacted and whatever the nature of the bonus a material increase in public expenditures will be necessary. If a bonus law is to be enacted there will be an increase rather than a decrease in taxation. Those who believe that a bonus law will be passed discourage any effort to revise the tax laws. It is admitted that under the present scale of Government expenditures a very material reduction would be made in income taxes both for large and small taxpayers. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is opposed to

THREE CARS INVOLVED IN BRIDGE COLLISION

Mrs. Lewis Of Carthage Suffers
Torn Ligaments In One Leg And
Others Escape Injury

THREE AUTOMOBILES DAMAGED

Three automobiles figured in a mishap Sunday afternoon a mile west of Arlington, when they attempted to pass each other on a narrow bridge, and in the collision that took place, Mrs. Lewis of Carthage was badly injured, and received a severe injury to one leg, as ligaments around her ankle were torn loose.

The machine in which she was riding was badly damaged, it was said. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis moved to Carthage recently from St. Louis, and Mr. Lewis is associated in the management of the American Paper Products company at Carthage.

In one of the machines were five Indianapolis men, members of the Riverside A. A. football team that played at Arlington yesterday. The parties in the third car were not known, and only Mrs. Lewis sustained any injuries that required medical attention. All three machines, however, were damaged.

FISH AND GAME FUNDS INCREASE THIS YEAR

Increase of $20,000 is Caused in Part by Fine Co-operation of Hoosiers in Observing Laws

ISSUE 176,770 LICENSES

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29—Increase of more than $20,000 over last year in the funds of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation was reported today by George N. Mannfeld, chief of the division.

The increase is caused in part by the fine co-operation of Hoosiers in observing the fish and game laws Mannfeld declared.

Expenditures exceeded receipts by only $3,578.65, he said. The largest single item of expense was approximately $25,000 spent in building a new hatchery at Avaco in Lawrence County. Another $25,000 may be required to complete this addition to Indiana's fine chain of hatcheries.

A total of 176,770 hunting and fishing licenses was issued by the division last year, Mannfeld said, compared with 153,392 in 1922.

Fourteen counties registered decreases in the number issued. These are: Boone, Carroll, Clay, Clinton, DeKalb, Elson, Hendricks, Jasper, Miami, Perry, Putnam, Ripley, Starke and Wayne.

up the wreckage, but people of other nationalities, though giving way to their feelings during the catastrophe, were quick to join in rescue work.

The Rushville women were very proud of their country because United States destroyers were the only ones that showed absolutely no partiality in extending relief, the Japanese aiding the Japanese only and the British navy showing some favoritism for their own people.

One of the most miraculous escapes from death was that of the Mexican consul to Yokohama, and his family of seven. They returned to America on the same boat with the Misses Muire.

The Mexican family had been in Yokohama only a few days before the earthquake and had been quartered at the leading hotel until a few days before the disaster, when they moved to the home of a British woman. Only the Mexican consul and his mother-in-law were in the house when it crumbled, but they escaped only by a miracle. Everyone in the hotel where they had been staying was killed. All of their clothing and silverware were stolen by Japanese.

An American woman related an unusual experience to the Misses Muire. She and a friend were in the business district and were just about to enter a store when the first shock came, and were thrown to the street. The American woman rushed to her home for her infant child, expecting to find it crushed by falling beams. After a long search, the baby was found in the Japanese nurse's lap, safe and uninjured, but the nurse, in bending over to protect the child, had been struck by a falling debris and her neck broken.

"People in buildings rarely escaped," said Miss Winnifred Muire. "Those who happened to be in, the streets were the only ones, with rare exceptions, who were not killed. While we were in Yokohama, people were standing at the scenes of their former homes or places of business, guarding their land. It was pitiful to see rude wooden slabs erected in piles of debris, stating that a certain person had been killed on that spot."

The Misses Muire talked to an American boy who was in Shanghai when the earthquake came, and hurried to Yokohama where his family was. He searched for days and finally recognized his father's automobile by the license number. Nothing was left but the frame, and the boy learned that his father and sister had been burned to death in the machine, and were buried underneath it.

The Rushville woman talked to an American who fell in a crevice in the earth and was given air through a bamboo pole until he could be rescued. When dragged to the top of the earth, he was so badly scratched that he would not be recognized.

"The Japanese tried to suppress the news of the disaster, fearing attack from other nations," Miss Muire said. "They had the same notion when they insisted that American destroyers not enter their ports to assist earthquake sufferers. The destroyers went in anyway and the Japanese now probably have a different idea of Americans."

There are scarcely any people left in Yokohama, according to the Misses Muire, because they had no means of livelihood and there is no food and no shelter. Most of them fled to China.

The Misses Muire, by chance, met Edwin Funk, formerly of Warsaw, Ind., and a very good friend of theirs at Naples. He is serving an enlistment in the United States Navy and was on the Pittsburgh, a destroyer.

FUNERAL OF MINE VICTIM

Remaining Three Killed In Fire To Be Buried Tuesday

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 29.—Last rites for John Landis, one of the four victims of the Noah Hunt wagon mine fire near Staunton were held at his home near Eagles, Ind., today. His body was buried at the Paugh cemetery.

Services for the other victims will be held tomorrow. The funeral of Peter Butterman will be held here in the morning and services for Joe Hardy and his seven year old son, George, will be held in the afternoon. Belief was expressed today by rescuers that the men might have saved their lives by retreating to the rear of the workings. Bodies of the three men were found grouped about little George Hardy as if to shield him from the fumes of the fire. Death was caused by suffocation.

Bret Harte's classic of California in the brave, wild Fifties. Actually filmed in its original setting—among the great Redwoods of the Santa Cruz mountains.

The rugged town of Red Dog, the quaint Harte characters, the sweeping action, the typical Harte humanness—all have been transferred to the screen with absolute fidelity.

Result—A Screen Classic.

KLANSMEN TO BE ARRAIGNED

Alleged To Have Violated Anti-Mask Order At Portsmouth, O.

Portsmouth, Ohio, Oct. 29. —More than 200 members of the Ku Klux Klan were to appear in police court today to answer to charges of violating Mayor William M. Cableman's anti-mask order.

Special police blockaded a klan parade marching to a church where they were to participate in the laying of a corner stone.

More than two hundred paraders, 187 of them said to be wearing the Klan regalia, were rushed to police station and ordered to appear for hearing today. They were charged with obstructing traffic.

Mayor Cableman had refused the Klansmen a permit to parade in regalia.

MOVIES

"Salomy Jane" At Princess

Some of the most talented and widely known players on the screen appear in Paramount's new picture, "Salomy Jane," a George Melford production based on the famous story by Bret Harte, which will be the feature at the Princess Theatre for two days, beginning today.

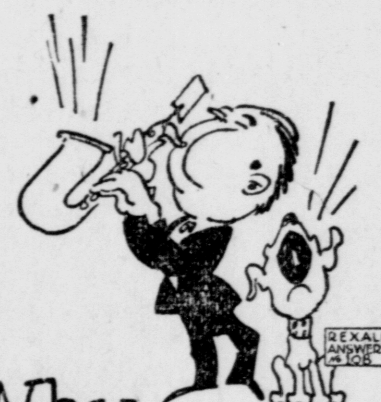

Jacqueline Logan, a former Follies girl, plays the name role. Her love for the great out-of-doors particularly adapted her for this photoplay of pioneer life in California in the days of '49. Many human touches of quaint humor are woven into the fabric of this romantic screen play by George Fawcett, who plays the role of "Yuba Bill," a stage-coach driver.

Maurice Flynn, Yale graduate and college athlete, takes the part of "The Man," a stranger in the little mining settlement whose mission is unknown and who is a scene of gripping tragedy becomes the sweetheart of Salomy Jane.

"The Man" is accused of holding up the stage-coach and is about to be led away to be hanged by the Vigilantes when Salomy Jane, moved by a strange impulse, kisses him good-bye. Red Pete, proven to be one of the hold-up men, is hanged but the stranger escapes. On returning to thank Salomy for her kindness, he meets an old enemy, Baldwin.

In the fight, Baldwin is shot from ambush by another man. Salomy lends the stranger some of her father's clothes that he may get out of the country. This leads Larabee an enemy of Salomy Jane's father, to shoot at the stranger Larabee's killed by a bullet from the stranger's rifle. As he dies, he confesses that Baldwin, now dead was Red Pete's partner in the stage robbery.

A LAMP AND A LIGHT—
This word is a lamp unto my feet
and a light unto my path.—Psalm 119: 105.

Regulation vs Destruction

The Supreme Court of Illinois has rendered an important decision in the case of a motor bus company seeking to operate in competition with electric railways.

The opinion of the court contains certain truths showing the effect of duplicating transportation facilities and destroying real service.

The bus company wanted a franchise to operate in certain towns with considerable population, which was opposed by the electric railroad system connecting those towns. After a full showing, the lower court held that the operation of the bus line was not a necessary transportation facility, although granted by a public service commission.

On appeal, the Supreme Court holds that it is not the policy of the public utility law of Illinois to promote competition as a means of providing service.

It holds that where one company can serve the public conveniently and efficiently, to grant a competing franchise is to make the public pay more if both companies are to earn a fair return on their investment. The court says that to authorize bus lines to carry passengers at a lower rate in the same territory where an electric line is charging a reasonable rate is against public interest.

It says a public service commission has no right to make an order regulating a public utility which amounts to a confiscation of its property.

Land Armaments

Capitals of Europe are agreed that there is little hope for a cuf in land armaments at this time. While London is said to strongly favor such a step, she recognizes that the time for this action is an armed camp.

France, in her present situation, could ill afford to weaken to any appreciable extent her land forces. England, with the Turk experiment fresh in mind, could well hesitate before effecting drastic cuts in her armies. Russia, the colored man of the woodpile, cannot be consulted because she is not a member of the family of nations. Italy, at the peak of a popular wave of territorial aggrandizement, is in no mood to pass by an advantage so easily gained. Greece would be foolish to economize. Only the United States is ready and willing for the step.

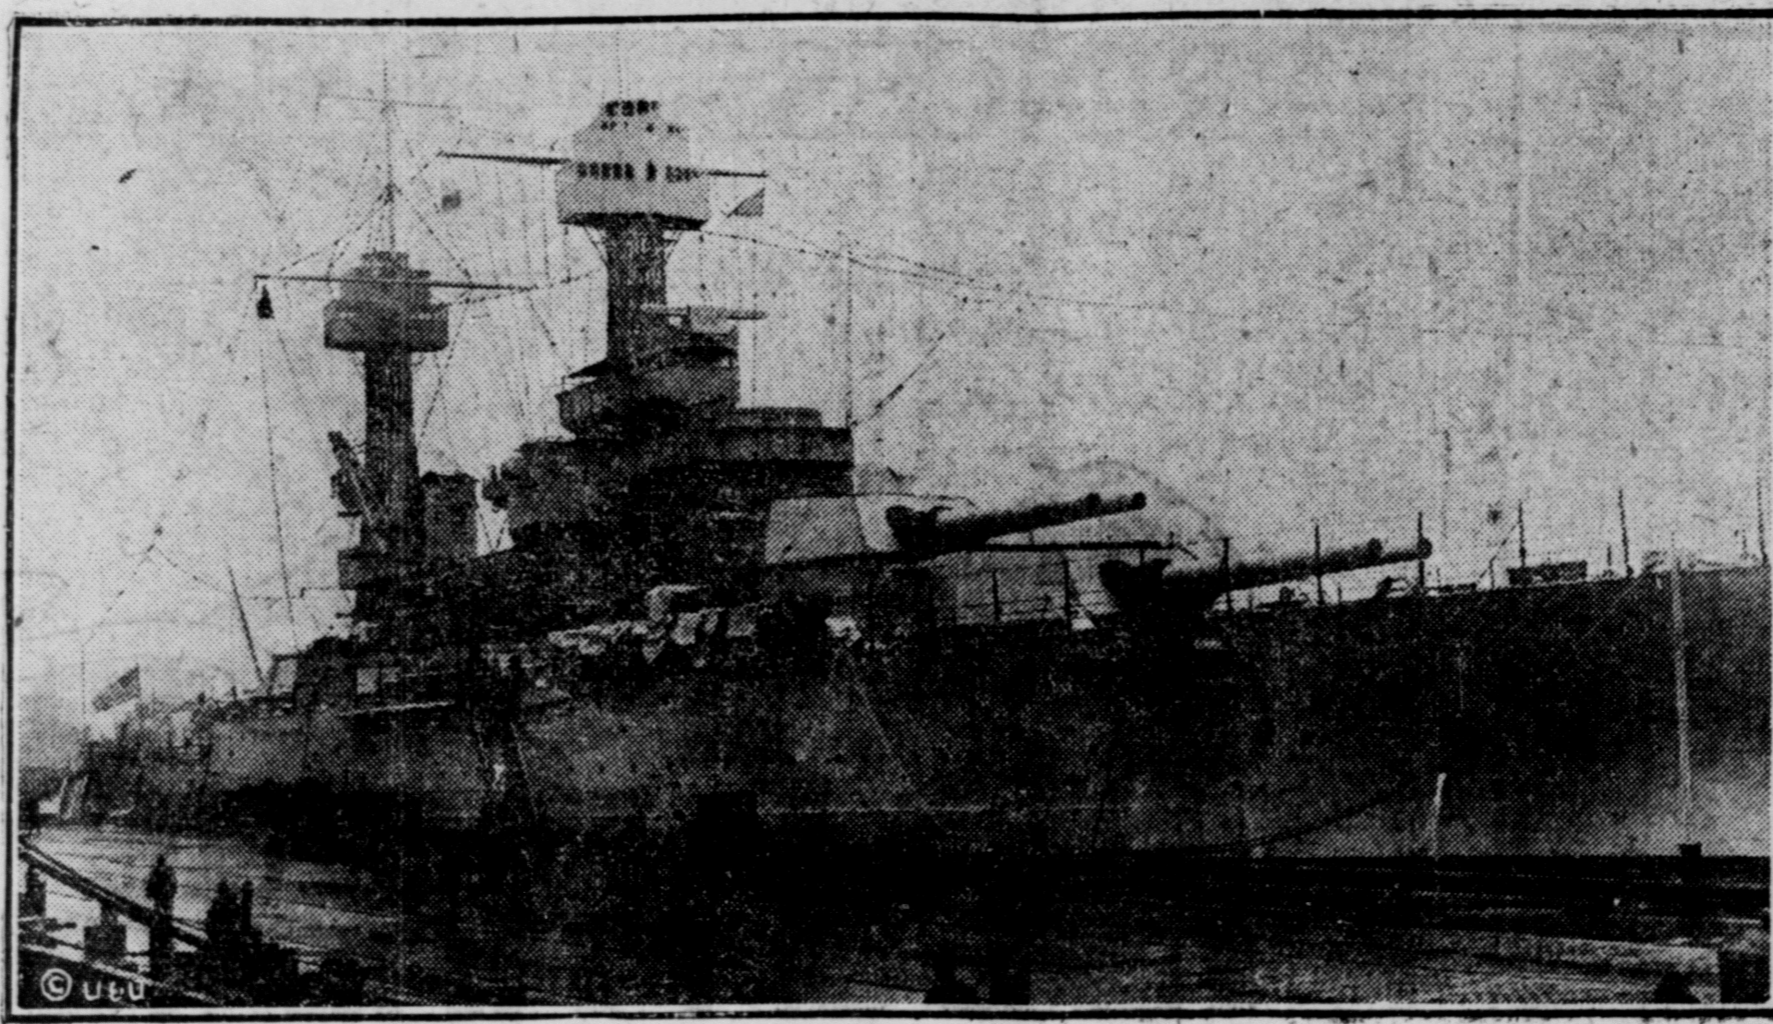

"The time is not opportune." It took a grim war and the loss to millions of lives to make the Washington naval cut possible. Must it take another such demonstration of barbarism before the land conference becomes a reality?

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment insurance is being experienced with by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of Chicago. The union has reached an agreement with employers whereby an insurance fund is created from which unemployment insurance amounting to forty percent of the average full time weekly wage will be paid the worker for his period of idleness up to five weeks, the amounts not to exceed twenty dollars a week. These unemployment payments, however, will not be given for idleness caused by strikes.

Great Britain in 1912 passed a compulsory unemployment act and

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions that make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful and interesting.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a practice of reading the advertisements. They are daily lessons in economy.

Remodeling of Graham Annex Gymnasium Will be Completed by Friday Night

BROOKVILLE COMING HERE

Three Contests For Opening Bill, Including Second and Girls Team Games

The Rushville high school basketball team will put in final ticks this week in preparation for the opening game, when Brookville will come here as their opposition, and on the card for the opening night will be three games.

The girls from the local high school will figure in the opening, but their opponent is not known, as two teams are wanting to play here, and a selection will be made between one of these teams.

The R. H. S. seconds will tackle the Brookville seconds in the 7:30 game, and the big contest of the evening will be played at 8:15.

The work of remodeling the gymnasium is nearing completion, and the game will be played in the Graham Annex school, and not at the Modern Appliance as stated a few days ago. An entire new floor has been built in the gym, and this work will be completed by the middle of the week.

Coach John Swain has been drilling his squad for several weeks, and those who have seen the team work out in practice, declare that the team will go big in the games, and a record crowd is expected for the opening night.

The second team is said to be even stronger than last year, as a big force of candidates is available for the team.

The seat reservation plan has been withdrawn, and no seats will be reserved, as there was said to be no demand for the $10 tickets.

The second team's schedule has not been completed, but a list of the first six games is announced. Other games with Richmond, and other cities are on the list later in the season. The schedule for the first six weeks is as follows:

Nov. 2—Brookville here.
Nov. 9—Hagerstown here.
Nov. 16—At Morristown.
Nov. 23—At Spiceland.
Nov. 28—Milroy here.
Nov. 30—At Newcastle.

Chicago And Illinois, Leading Big Ten Title Race With 2 Victories Each, Meet At Urbana

MICHIGAN TO PLAY HAWKEYES

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Big Ten football leaders went into hard practice sessions this week in preparation for crucial games of the 1923 season next Saturday.

Chicago and Illinois, leading the title race with two victories each, meet this week-end at Urbana. The game traditionally one of the hardest fought contests of the mid-west, will put one of the teams out of the running. Illinois by virtue of its defeat over Northwestern was a slight favorite to win. Chicago found difficulty in nailing out a victory over Northwestern a week ago.

Michigan with one win and no defeats faces a hard fight at Iowa. The Hawkeyes after dropping an early season game to Illinois, were a rejuvenated team when they sent Ohio State down to a 20 to 0 defeat Saturday. Michigan, although picked for northwest honors this year may find difficulties in stopping the Hawkeyes attack.

Wisconsin has an open date. Minnesota takes on the lowly Purple of Northwestern and the other members of the Big Ten will be engaged in tests with non-conference eleven.

K. OF P. WORK TO BEGIN

The Knights of Pythias will meet Monday night at which time the active work for the fall and winter season will begin, and a class of 7 candidates will take the rank of Page. All members are urged to attend and renew their loyal interest in the lodge.

a bonus law and who seems to assume that no such law will be passed, is working on a revision downward of income tax rates.

Members of Congress who are of the internationalist turn of mind and who believe that the United States should "do something for Europe" will probably have measures to present proposing something definite in the way of extension of Federal aid to nations across the Atlantic. What these measures will be is as yet unknown but there seems to be a general view that legislation of this kind should not be passed. It is felt that encouragement of the idea that Europe can look to America for support will retard rather than hasten the return of European industries to the paths of peace.

Although Democrats for purely partisan reasons are still attacking the Republican tariff law and will perhaps urge changes in tariff rates there is a general feeling throughout the country that with practically all industries operating at full capacity and more jobs available than there are men to fill them, reopening of tariff discussion would do much harm and would certainly do no good. It is felt that with prosperous conditions in most lines

New York, Oct. 29.—When the four umpires who worked in the world's series complained to Commissioner Landis that their services in a million-dollar series were worth more than $2,000 each, the subject of umpiring in general came up for discussion in a group of baseball men, including several major and minor league managers, coaches and players.

In 1921 and 1922 the four umpires who worked in the world's series were given a sum equivalent to the money received from the series by one winning player and one losing player. The umpires divided this sum four ways.

During the last meeting of the major leagues this method of paying the umpires was abolished and it was decided that the officials in the future should be paid a flat sum of $2,000 each.

This new plan represented a loss of about $800 each to the umpires, who had believed they were to get the same pay that the umpires were given in the two previous years. Splitting the share of a winning and losing player, the four umpires would have received about $2,800 each.

Commissioner Landis refused to amend or change the new rule and he insisted that the letter of the law be followed which entitled the umpires to $2,000.

In discussing the controversy, most of the baseball men agreed that the umpires should have been paid on the same scale that prevailed in the past two years and they agreed that when the wages were changed for the umpires the law-makers of baseball should have made some reforms to regulate the method of choosing the umpires for the most important of all baseball games.

Under the plan which now prevails, the presidents of the two major leagues follow the plan of giving the umpires their turn in getting a cut of the world's series money. This naturally means that ability is not considered in selecting the official, although it will be argued by the league presidents that all of their umpires are competent and good enough to work in a world's series. But they are not!

COACHES OPEN AT WALDRON THURSDAY

Will Take on Fast Independent Team For First Basketball Game of The Season

IS COMPOSED OF STARS

On Thursday night the Rush County coaches' basketball team opens its net season with the Waldron independents at Waldron, in the new gymnasium there. The coaches of the schools of Rush county have been shaping into good form during the past few weeks, and are now ready to take the floor.

With the cast of old college and independent men, such as composes the personnel of the team, a real season of independent ball is about to be offered to Rush county fans. All home games will be played in Rushville at the Modern Appliance building, and fans here will be assured of fast playing.

The teams has such players as the following: Headlee, former Rushville high school star and later of DePauw; Means of Moscow, Franklin college player and who also is captain of the coaches' team; Patterson of Webb, formerly of Purdue; Seales of Raleigh and Royalty of Milroy, of Fairview A. C. fame and of Oakland college; Jinks of New Salem, formerly of Hanover; Hyatt of Arlington, formerly of Glenwood, who formerly played with the Fairview team.

The opening game at Rushville will be announced soon, and in the meantime the team will play away from here. The game at Waldron Thursday night is expected to be a good one.

BIG CLASS ADOPTION

The Modern Woodman lodge is planning on a large class adoption on the night of November 8, when it is expected that 30 candidates will be given the degree. At the meeting last Thursday night eight applications were received and these will be included in the class adoption for that night.

NOTRE DAME IS STILL UNDEFEATED

Stands Along With Michigan, California, Yale, Dartmouth, Illinois And Chicago

IRISH BIG TEAM OF THE YEAR

None Has Equaled Daring of Hoosiers in Defeating Army, Princeton and Georgia Tech

By HENRY L. FARRELL
New York, Oct. 29.—Notre Dame, Michigan, California, Yale, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Illinois and Chicago now stand as the major undefeated eleven of the country.

Notre Dame, Michigan, California and Cornell perhaps come close to being the class of the undefeated teams as the big eleven swing into the hard November schedules.

Penn-State and West Virginia, two of the strongest teams in the east, slipped momentarily from the sectional leaders Saturday when they engaged in a tie-score battle.

Harvard's defeat by Dartmouth and Princeton's tie score with the Navy after losing to Notre Dame, made Yale the only undefeated team of the "big three" and made prospects bright for a Yale-championship team in the old sacred circle.

Dartmouth, for the time being, is up with the best teams in the country because of the crushing defeat it gave Harvard Saturday but just ahead is the Cornell game next Saturday which will be a big test for both teams.

Notre Dame, if it is possible to arrive at such a deduction, looks like the big team of the year this side of the Pacific coast. No team in the country has equaled the daring of the Notre Dame eleven which on successive Saturdays routed the Army, Princeton and Georgia Tech.

There are no figures available by which Notre Dame and California may be compared, but the two teams may meet in a post season game that should come closer than any game in the past to give a line on the "national champion."

California, Michigan and Washington are the only major teams in the country that haven't been scored upon but Dartmouth, Syracuse and Wisconsin have uncrossed goal lines. Cornell is the leading scoring team in the country with 187 points. Colgate has scored 168, Syracuse 164, the Army 162 and Notre Dame 161.

6-YEAR-OLD CHILD DIES

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for Mildred Glisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glisson, residing southwest of Milroy. The child was six years old, and death was due to chronic pulmonary disease. Death took place Saturday morning. Burial this afternoon was made in the cemetery at Milroy.

ARLINGTON WEAKENS
IN THIRD QUARTER

Athletic Club Defeated Sunday by Riverside A. A. Team of Indianapolis, 12 to 0

BAD JUDGMENT COSTS 6 POINTS

The Arlington Athletic club lost another hard fought game Sunday to the Riverside A. A. team of Indianapolis, 12 to 0. The teams fought as hard as any that ever have played on the Athletic field for the last few years. They were evenly matched until late in third quarter when bad judgment of the Arlington back field on a punt by Riverside, put the ball on Arlington's one yard line where Riverside pushed the ball over.

In the fourth quarter Arlington began to weaken and Riverside by some forward passing and good end runs, put over another touchdown just as time was called, making the count 12 to 0.

Both Riverside's extra points were blocked. The Riverside team had a good shift back field and several trick plays which were hard to stop. Sparks punting for Arlington was the feature of the game, making some very long punts. The Arlington team is not a bit discouraged and will be out again next Sunday fighting hard when they meet the Brookside Cubs, another fast team of Indianapolis.

MOSCOW SWAMPS NEW
SALEM, BUT GIRLS WIN

Shows Superior Strength At All Stages of Game, Veteran Squad Being Able to Score at Will

NEW SALEM GIRLS WIN, 9 TO 8

New Salem and Moscow high schools divided honors Saturday night at basketball, on the floor at Blue Ridge, when the Moscow varsity team swamped the New Salem varsity by the score of 45 to 7, in the main bout of the evening, but in the preliminary show, the New Salem girls had the best of the argument, by defeating the Moscow girls 9 to 8.

The girls' game was exciting in all quarters and was not won by New Salem until the final whistle.

The Moscow boys showed superior strength in all stages of the game, and their veteran squad could almost register goals at will.

Last Friday night the Moscow second team was victorious in a game with Waldron, 19 to 7, played at Waldron, and the Waldron first team defeated Fairland 23 to 4 in the main game.

The line-up and summary of the game Saturday night is as follows:

Moscow 45	New Salem 7
Alexander F	W. King
B. Hungerford F	H. Wills
Gosnell C	K. Wilson
Tillison G	Leforge
H. Hungerford G	H. Wilson
Substitutions: Moscow, Coers, Whisman, M'Ahren, Casey, Reber, Hurst; New Salem, Stamm, D. Wilson, Scott and Stiers. Field goals, Alexander 2, B. Hungerford 3, Gosnell 9, Tillison 5, Whisman, Casey, W. King, K. Wilson. Foul goals, Moscow 3 out of 8; New Salem 3 out of 15. Referee Netherlands.

Farrell Picked All Winners

Henry L. Farrell, sports editor of the United Press, was one of the few sports writers who did not pick the New York Giants to win the world's series from the New York Yankees.

After a series of articles in which the two teams were compared, position by position, and in which the "superiority complex" of the Giants was explained as their greatest asset, Farrell concluded the final article, which appeared on October 9, with this prediction:

"The Giants, it is true, have many reasons and causes why they should win, but we do not believe they will."

In a series of articles last April, in which he discussed the prospects of the sixteen major league clubs in the pennant races, Farrell called the turn in the National League, and he picked the one-two positions in the American League.

In a story, released for April 16, Farrell predicted that the National League clubs would finish as follows:

New York, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago, Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia.

With the exception of the Cubs, who finished fourth, and the Cards, who finished fifth, Farrell picked the teams for the position in which they finished.

Discussing the teams separately, in the same April 16 story, Farrell called the turn on the Cubs, however, by saying:

"St. Louis is put in the first division merely because the Cards finished there last season and because Branch Riekey's club is less of an experiment than the Cubs. The Cards look doubtful and the Cubs dangerous, and it would be no great surprise if Bill Killifer should get his Cubs in fourth place."

In the American League, Farrell predicted, in a story, released for April 17, that the teams would finish as follows:

New York, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Washington and Boston.

They finished.

New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston.

In commenting upon Washington, Farrell said that Donie Bash would land Washington much higher if Clarke Griffith let him along to run the team and that the Browns might drop to sixth place if they didn't have Sisler for at least a half a season.

Gary—Announcement in a newspaper here read: "Members of Gary Dune No. 1, Order of Sand Fleas, will hold a meeting tomorrow night at the Commercial Club. Most Vicious Sand Flea Verne B. Young will preside."

The state board of accounts has already begun an investigation of the books of the board of agriculture in an effort to straighten out the situation.

Governor McCray gave this explanation of his dealings with the board of agriculture, which he said, had been generally misunderstood and misinterpreted.

"The money I borrowed from the state board of agriculture was transferred by Indianapolis banks to the banking connections in Chicago of the Discount and Deposit State bank gave me credit for it and it was paid out of my checks."

Hearings will be held in Kentland Wednesday on civil suits to collect on a number of notes endorsed by the governor. Ten suits which were to have been heard today were settled by agreement of attorneys and judgments totaling $40,000 were returned against the governor.

Social Notes

The Rebekah Lodge of Arlington will give a Halloween social Wednesday night at the I. O. O. F. in Arlington, for the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kellam entertained with a dinner party Sunday at their home near this city, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hiner and children Richard and Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Porter.

A number of relatives and friends of L. G. Wortman delightfully surprised him with a pitch-in dinner Sunday at his home in North Perkins street, honoring his birthday anniversary. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wortman and son Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Connaway and Mrs. Sarah Goodwin of Morristown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hoffman of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hungerford were host and hostess to a dinner party Sunday at their home southwest of the city. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kellam, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Statts of Centerville and Mr. and Mrs. Mart Kellam and son Roy of Cambridge City.

The Missionary Society of the Main Street Christian church will hold its annual banquet Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the church. The men of the society will be special guests at this meeting. All the members are urged to attend and to bring well filled baskets.

Mrs. Mary Boring of near Milroy entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Benning and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas and daughter Ruth.

Mrs. Elmer Drake pleasantly surprised her husband Sunday with a pitch-in dinner, the occasion being his 38th birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright and son Gilbert of Connersville, Mr. and Mrs. John Ellerman and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Kiser and daughter and Dan Drake.

Mrs. Pet Shropshire was pleasantly surprised Sunday at her home, 392 West First street, the event being her eighty-first birthday anniversary, and several friends from Indianapolis were here, and enjoyed a pitch-in dinner for the occasion. Red carnations adorned the centerpiece on the table.

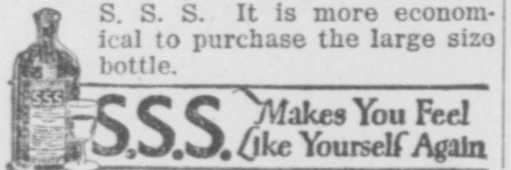

The home of Mrs. Flora Green living west of the city, was the scene of a pretty party Saturday evening, when twenty young people enjoyed a masked Halloween party, the hostesses being the Misses Thelma Green and Ruth Chadwick. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening. The home was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. Don C. Buell, assisted by the Misses Mary E. Patton and Alice F. Peters, gave a surprise party last Thursday night for Miss Thelma Buell, at her beautiful country home, northeast of the city. It was in honor of her nineteenth birthday. The evening was spent with dancing and card playing, during which delicious refreshments were served. Those present were the Misses Thelma Buell, Helen Lambertson, Greta Reed, Pearl Reed, Maxine VanDeventer, Alice F. Peters, Mary Hackleman, Helen Jeffrey, Ava Ging, Neva Rich, Gertrude Shields, Helen McClure, Mary Louise Darnell, Katherine Laughlin, Mary Patton and Freda and Bertha Custer and Robert Laughlin, John Reed, Russell Dora, Harry McClain, Almer Parker, Fred Cook, Dorris Darnell, William McClure, Claude Adams, Donald Shields, Guy

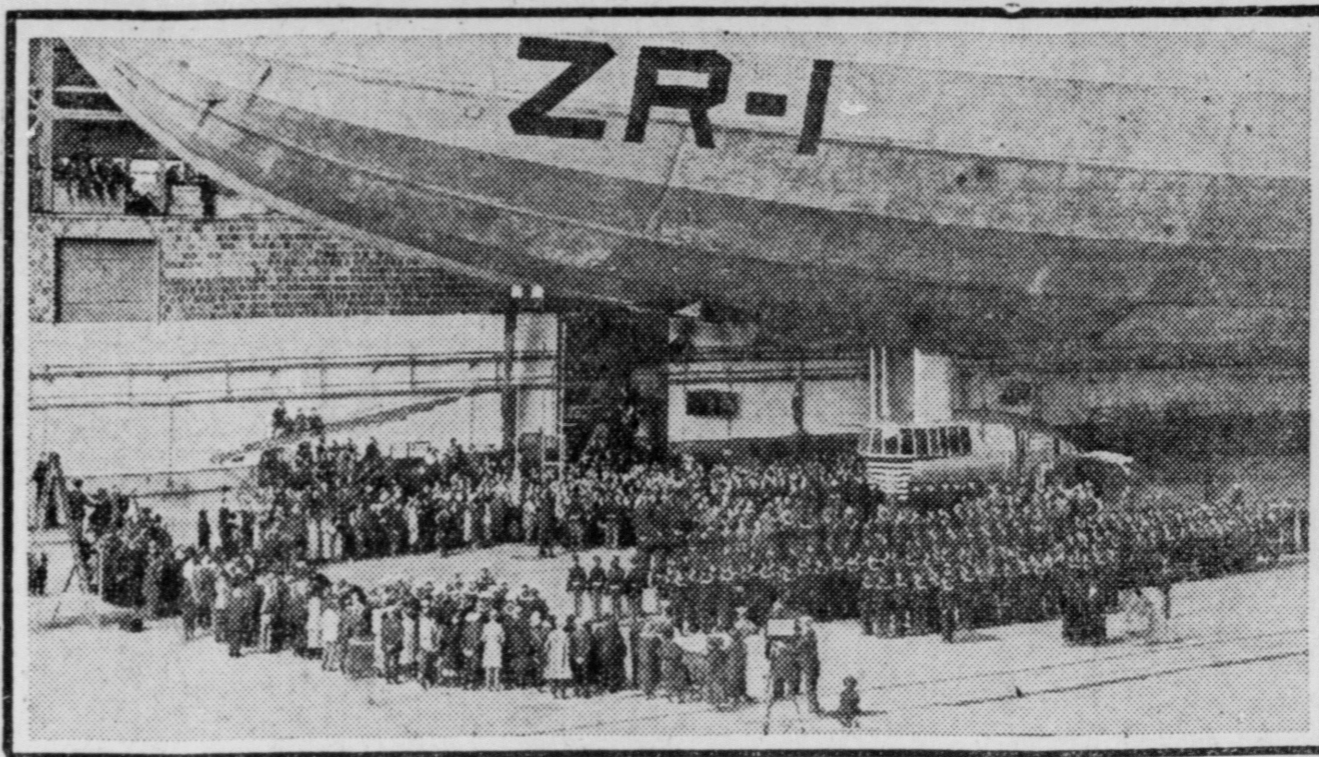

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health. Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both. S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

The second division of the Psi Iota Xi sorority will entertain the members of the first division tonight with a pitch-in supper at the home of Mrs. Floyd Kirklin in North Harrison street. Each member is requested to bring their own dishes and silverware.

The choir of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will hold their regular rehearsal Tuesday evening at the home of the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett in North Morgan street. It will be a Halloween party and all the members are requested to come masked.

Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Stevens were delightedly surprised Friday evening with a dinner party, the affair being in honor of their birthdays. The guests were Mrs. Wells Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Jap Coon and family, Mrs. John Mapes, Mrs. Florence Bean and daughter Tressie of Glenwood.

The Tri Kappa sorority will be entertained tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Innis in Milroy with a pitch-in supper. The supper will be served promptly at 6:45 o'clock and all the members are requested to bring their own dishes. Husbands of the Tri Kappas will be guests.

CHURCH OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Week Of Celebration At Wesley M. E. Church A Success

The week of celebration at the Wesley M. E. church, held last week, was pronounced a big success by the pastor, the Rev. C. T. Parker. The church was built 47 years ago last week.

The program that was carried out during the week came to an end Sunday night, and at noon approximately 200 persons were present for the "birthday dinner" that was given. The contributions for a birthday present, given by members and friends of the congregation, amounted to $315. One addition to the church was reported. The pastor and officers of the church today extended thanks to those who assisted during the week, in making the affair a success.

Washington Believes Advisory Conference Of Experts On Reparations Will Be Held

PREMIER POINCAIRE TALKS

French Leader Declares France Will Never Consent To Discuss Sum Fixed In May, 1921

(By United Press) Washington, Oct., 29. —The American government is not disturbed over the week-end declarations of Premier Poincare of France and believes that the advisory conference of experts on reparations proposed by Secretary of State Hughes will be held, it was declared by a high authority of the administration today.

By JOHN DEGANDT (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Oct., 29. —Premier Poincare has drawn the eye teeth of the proposed advisory conference of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations in the opinion of well-informed quarters here today.

His speech at Sampigny and subsequent official communiques, it was said here today, have headed off what was believed to be an attempt to reduce the total of the German reparations debt and a proposal to get France and Belgium out of the Ruhr.

"France will never consent to discuss again the total fixed in May, 1921," a communique said, "and will never reduce the amount fixed by the reparations commission."

In his speech at Sampigny the premier declared France would remain in the Ruhr until totally paid. He pictured Germany as a hypocrite seeking to dodge her debts while illegally and secretly forming a huge army, air fleet and ammunition factories for a war of imperialistic revenge.

As pointed out previously by the United Press, France's acceptance was accompanied by reservations which would limit the scope of any international inquiry to a fresh investigation of how to make Germany pay.

Still Possible To Live On Less Than 90 Cents Daily

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—It is still possible to live on less than 90 cents a day.

This price bought three square meals a day, a good bed every night and all the necessities of life, according to completed figures on costs at the summer practice camp for civil engineering students at Purdue university.

The report shows that all living expenses of the 120 students who attended the eight week camp at Pentwater, Mich., during June and July averaged $49.50 for the entire period or approximately 90 a day. The student paid $75 at the beginning of the camp, $25.50 of which was returned to them for all transportation expenses.

The fact that they did not starve is shown by a typical menu: Breakfast: sweet cherries, breakfast food (eight kinds) fried eggs, bread, butter, jam, milk and coffee; Lunch: cold meat, fried potatoes, lima beans, jam, raisins, cookies, bread, butter and milk; supper: roast beef, mashed potatoes; brown gravy, corn, jam peanut butter, bread, butter, strawberries cake and milk. An old hotel was rented and fitted up for living quarters.

IMPROVEMENT IN STEEL INDUSTRY

October Business Shows Increase Of About Ten Per Cent Over The September Business

IS BAROMETER OF TRADE

Railroads Withhold Large Orders Presumably For Price Declines According To Forecast

By BRUCE SHORT
(President, The Engineering Sales Corporation)
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., October 29.—The general attitude of the steel industry is much better in many respects than it has been for some weeks. The October business shows an increase of about ten per cent over September indicating a better condition for all business inasmuch as steel is considered a barometer of trade.

This optimistic trend, does not apply to all branches of the industry as the strip mills are operating at only about thirty per cent capacity and the pig iron market continues to decline. Orders in these branches are being taken at fifty cents to a dollar below the prices prevailing last week.

As forecast last week, the railroads are withholding their large orders presumably for price declines. No price concessions have been made yet however and it appears there

A good friend stands by you when in need. Rushville people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. John Heany of 616 W. 3rd St., Rushville, endorsed Doan's many years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I had trouble with my kidneys and the secretions passed too frequently and I had to get up several times during the night," says Mr. Heany. "It was painful to pass the secretions which were highly colored and contained sediment. My back was weak and lame. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store and they relieved me." (Statement given August 25, 1915.)

On November 4, 1926, Mr. Heany added: "I still have the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally and always get the same results."

The Court's Dignity

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 29.—Someone has to suffer when there's too much laughter in Federal Judge Atwell's court here.

"Every time I hear the law coming, I run," said Eddie Couster, during his trial on charges of violating the prohibition law.

A chorus of laughs from the spectators greeted Eddie's remark.

Everyone who laughed, got up and leave this court room," ordered Judge Atwell.

No one stirred.

The judge repeated his command. Still no one made a move to leave.

Douglas Campbell, Deputy United States marshal, glanced around. Singling out a spectator, Campbell ordered the man to leave.

"What's all the row," asked the surprise man. "I was sound asleep." But he left.

Breaking It Easy

TRAVELED 1,000 MILES ON 35 CENTS

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 29.—Nathan Pierce, 19-year-old El Paso youth, with a half dollar in his jeans, grew tired of his job in his brother's garage and set out for parts other than Southwestern Texas. Kansas City was his ultimate destination.

The youthful traveler rode passenger trains—blind baggage—as far as Amarillo, Texas. The sheriff housed him for one night and Nathan started out afoot the next day.

He worked for farmers for his board and room while his brother, A. L. Pierce, garage owner, had posess hunting the desert wastes of El Paso for some trace of Nathan.

Finally, Nathan, employer, a farmer, learned that the big brother in El Paso was hunting for Nathan.

So the farmer notified authorities and Nathan was returned to his old job. He arrived in El Paso with 15 cents of his original half dollar capital and had traveled 1,000 miles during the four weeks he was gone.

IN THE CHURCHES SUNDAY

Many Masters In This Life

"One Is Your Master — Even Christ," was the subject of the discourse given by the Rev. H. W. Hargett at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. "The subject was taken from Mathew 23:10. The first part of the text is true for everyone," he said, "the second for those who pay the price. One is your Master, which one?"

"For in the complex life of ours there are many masters. Mastery is the law of life. In the realm of body, mind and spirit, the master is always present. Choosing a master is the chief end of man. As he chooses, so will he be not only all the days of his life here, but so far as we are able to tell forever and forever. God's plan for each life is that Christ shall be Lord and Master. To him every knee should bow and every tongue confess that he is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

"There are many rivals for supremacy in our lives. With many, self is the master. It need not be a wicked self."

"There are courser and finer shades of self will, that make impossible the mastership of Christ. Bad habits may rule. The throne of life may be occupied by some degrading appetite, so that it drives a man even while he struggles to be free. Love of money or love of pleasure may wither up the soul, till the noblest part of it lies in ruins. Prejudice may so master the soul that it is incapable of lofty and noble enthusiasms. The passing whims of life may be crowned in rapid succession. Fear, anger, desire of praise, may rule in turn. Here is the central sin from which all other sins begin. It is that of failing to enthroned Christ in that centre of our lives from which our motives spring. Our thoughts proceed and here all our deeds have their origin."

"Conversation is something more than assent to a creed. It is something more than a brief passing emotion. It is shifting the centre of life from self to Christ. It is enthroning him as Master of life. He who died to save lives to reign. Where Christ is Master he brings even the thoughts of our hearts into captivity to himself. No man nor nation is conquered till the mind is mastered."

Where Christ is master of the home, the children will not grow up wilful, disobedient, going out into life as unfitted for its strife as soldiers sent to the front without the mastership of discipline and training."

"When Christ is master, business both in its aims and in its methods will be pleasing to Him. Make Christ Master and life can have no neutral territory. All its activities will come under His control. If we are His all our lives will bear witness to that glorious fact. One is your Master, Which one? Answer, 'Even Christ.'"

The Christian's Money Creed

"The Christian's Money Creed," was the subject of the last of a series of Sunday morning sermons on Christian Stewardship at the First Baptist Church yesterday.

Four points were emphasized.

"1.—The Christian is under obligation to make as much money as he can. Contrary to much popular opinion the scriptures nowhere condemn the making of money. Of course, it is an axiom of the Christian's money creed that he shall make his money honestly. In carrying degrees the power to make money belongs to every man, and he is under solemn obligation to God to make all he can by his God-given talent.

"2.—He is obligated to spend his money properly. God is not glorified by half-fed, half clothed children living in filth and squalor. Every man is under obligation to spend his money in such a way as to give his family, not only the bare necessities of life, but a fair share of life's comforts."

"3.—He is also under obligation to save money. No man has a moral right to come to old age dependent unless by reason absolutely beyond his control. Not careful foresight, but anxious care is condemned in the scriptures, and the best way to avoid anxious care is to use careful foresight."

"4.—He must give of his money. At this point one question is always raised. How much? The answer to that question will depend entirely upon how much you study the word of God in reference to money and pray for guidance. Surely everyone should give a tenth of his income toward the work of the kingdom of God, and many are able to give much more."

"Only as we recognize that our whole life belongs to God will we see our money properly and distribute it wisely."

The Mind of Christ

The text for the morning service was "But we have the mind of Christ." The sermon was by the pastor who said in part:

"God the Father revealed Himself through His Son. He was 'The word of God.' The Son in turn revealed Himself to the world through Holy Writ. And as we are able to interpret the Word aright, so can we say with Paul 'We have the mind of Christ.' We have His mind."

"1. In regard to the Material World. As its Creator, He has told us many things. Made and upheld by the word of His power, it is to be used according to His will. He has shown (a) How it is to be acquired. 'In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread.' 'If any man will not work, neither shall he eat.' All work is honorable and with brain or brawn every man shall live. He has shown (b) How it is to be possessed. No man is free to do as he may please even with his own. Even civil law recognizes this. God has the first claim and His glory must be given the right of way. Worldly goods must be held subordinate to spiritual considerations. He has shown (c) How the material world is to terminate. 'It is stored up for fire.' 'The rocks shall melt with fervent heat.' Out of nothing it came. Into nothing shall it return."

"2. We have His Mind as to the Church. She has four functions. (a) It is to proclaim the truth. 'She is the pillar and the ground of the truth.' She is a lamp set on a stand to give light. She is salt whose task is to preserve. (b) It is to observe His worship. The first four commandments guard that. In order, they define the object of worship, the manner of worship, and the time of worship. The Lord's prayer gives first place to the same idea. (c) It is to build christian character. It is the function of the church to instruct the mind, to attune the heart, and to discipline the will. (d) It is to prepare for the second coming of our Lord. As soon as the gospel shall have been preached in all the world then shall the end come. She has been promised success."

At the evening service a gospel sermon was preached on Luke 9:23. "If any man will come after me let him deny himself, take up his cross daily and follow me." The almost universal desire to follow Christ was emphasized. It is respectable. It is profitable. It has a great future reward. The threefold requirement of the Master was stressed. This is "The King's Highway." It was opened up by a King, and is traveled only by those of the royal line. And it leads to God and home and heaven.

Better Citizenship

The great object of Christianity is to present every man perfect before the bar of God's judgment," said the Rev. Gibson Wilson, in his sermon Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church on the topic, "Christianity's Ambition." His text was "That we may present every man perfect in Christ," Colossians, 1:28.

"In doing this," the pastor continued, "every man becomes a better citizen before his fellow men. Think yourself into the meaning of these words, 'Every man perfect.' His defects are to be removed, his faults are to be erased."

"In every man becoming perfect, there is more than cleansing; there is also the development of the spiritual in his redemption."

"The doctrine of the Lutheran and Reformed churches, two great branches of the Protestant churches, is that life is never perfected in the flesh. Sin is never subdued and therefore we pray daily for forgiveness."

"How are we to attain unto this ambition?" the speaker asked.

"We must become acquainted with the great Christian doctrines and seek to make them a part of ourself. The words sin, repentance, redemption, salvation, adopting, resurrection and heaven are used too lightly."

"In this life we must develop within us the Christian grace, faith in God, hope of the life that is eternal, love toward man and God. We must cultivate humility, patience toward others, meekness, the spirit of gentleness, and long suffering toward the short comings of others."

"To attain this ambition, we must live in the enjoyment of Christian privileges, at peace with God, the enjoyment of his favor as adopted into his family. The joy of future inheritance is to be on our hearts. There must be discipline. The conscience must be educated."

"It takes toil to realize this ambition," the Rev. Mr. Wilson affirmed in conclusion. "To this end Paul labored, with zeal and energy, with Christ who is also working with patience and zeal in him."

"You have to give life energy, if you want to arouse the life energies in another. There is no magic word by which life is transformed. There is no mystic wand that can be used here."

"In this great reclamation work in which we are engaged with Paul and Christ, we must be collaborators, warning every man perfect in Jesus Christ."

For his evening services, the Rev. Mr. Wilson has been giving a series of studies on the Books of the Bible, which have been bringing forth most favorable comment. Sunday night he gave a study on the book of Nahum.

PRESSURE USED ON RATING BOARDS

Witness in Veterans Bureau Investigation Charges They Were
Swayed by Many Influences

SENATE HEARING IS RESUMED

Former Director Charles R. Forbes
Will Not Take The Witness Stand
Until Wednesday

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 29—"Dishonesty, bad judgment and carelessness" were widespread in the rating of the compensation to disabled veterans by district offices and the central office of the Veterans' bureau, Dr. R. F. Souther charged today before the senate committee investigating the bureau.

Dr. Souther, a member of the special committee appointed by General Hines, present director of the bureau, to correct abuses, told the senate committee ratings had worked great injustice both to the veterans and to the government.

Souther said rating boards had been swayed by various kinds of pressure. He mentioned personal interviews by congressmen and senators which had caused undesired ratings of compensations to be paid veterans who could enlist such support.

Testimony regarding real estate deals in connection with the purchase of hospital sites was scheduled for today as the senate committee investigating alleged maladministration of the veterans bureau by former Director Charles R. Forbes, resumed its inquiry.

Colonel Forbes will not take the stand until Wednesday to defend himself from the sensational charges made against him last week, according to present plans of the committee.

Matt O'Brien, San Francisco architect, who General Hines, present director of the bureau, testified last week received $64,000, for plans for the hospital at Livermore, Calif., which were never used, was here today and was expected to testify.

A great deal of dissatisfaction was expressed in veterans circles in California concerning the manner in which veterans bureau officials proceeded in this deal. Veterans organizations following a local investigation, issued a report from which General O'Ryan read into records of this hearing the charge that the whole affair has been "shady."

Every witness called from now to the end of the investigation will be subjected to searching examination by General O'Ryan in an effort to throw further light on the sensational charges made by the witness, Elias H. Mortimer at the last hearing.

Mortimer related a long circumstantial story concerning his relations with Forbes and charged that Forbes accepted money from favored contractors, that Forbes proposed to

WARREN T. NEWKIRK IS DEAD IN FLORIDA

Former Rushville Man Expires at Ft.
Pierce And Remains Will be
Brought Here For Burial

FORMER RAILROAD EMPLOYEE

Warren Thomas Newkirk, age 40 years, a native of this city, died at his home in Ft. Pierce, Fla., on last Friday and his remains will be brought here for burial, arriving Tuesday. The deceased was born here on January 22, 1893, and attended school here and at Richmond, where he also formerly resided. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Newkirk, and his mother survives, with his widow, and a sister, Josephine Newkirk Stevens and his brother, Carlisle Newkirk of this city.

During his employ with the St. Paul and Kansas City shortline railroad, he established a town at 37 miles south of Des Moines, and besides surveying it, and practically building it, he named it Melcher, after a vice president of the line.

He moved to Florida in 1922 where he purchased a fruit grove, and where he resided until his death.

SEVERAL CASES DISPOSED OF

Judgment Rendered In Suits Filed
Before Squire Stech

Several court cases were disposed of Saturday in Justice Stech's court. In the case of Sidney L. Hunt against Richard Floyd, complaint on account, the court rendered judgment for $7.05 for the plaintiff.

The suit of Sarah Guffin and Capitola Dill against Howard Richardson, a complaint for possession and damages, the plaintiffs dismissed their suit, setting out that the defendant has vacated the property involved.

The account suit of Sidney L. Hunt against Jesse Stout, was heard by the court and the plaintiff was awarded judgment in the sum of $72.30. An account suit filed by E. E. Polk against K. L. Benson was continued by agreement of the two parties, until a later date.

BACK FROM TRIP AROUND WORLD

Winnifred And Minnie Muir Gone

BUY GOODS FOR THEIR SHOPS

Near Many Harrowing Experiences
From Japanese Earthquake Re-
fugees in Yokohama

The Misses Winnifred and Minnie Muir arrived home Saturday from a trip around the world, buying for their shops here and at St. Augustine, Florida, and on the last leg of their journey home, they spent a few hours in Yokohama.

The Rushville women talked with many earthquake refugees in Yokohama and on the boat returning home, as well as on the train from Vancouver to Chicago, whose passengers were all refugees with the exception of the Misses Muir and two Filipino trained nurses coming to this country to study.

The Misses Muir were gone six months to a day and traveled in twenty countries. They were passengers on nine steamships and thirty trains and spent sixty-five days of the six months on the water.

It was the third trip around the world for Miss Winnifred Muir, and the first for her sister, who marveled at the beauties of the Orient, but came back home convinced that there is no place in the world like the United States.

"No one need ever tell me again that it is cheap to live in other countries," she said, "because I have found out differently."

Miss Muir said that the people of every land tried to "hold up" Americans, with very few exceptions.

Miss Minnie Muir will go to St. Augustine soon to open up their shop for the winter season and Miss Winnifred will remain here to unpack, mark and ship the scores of pieces they brought back from the Orient, Egypt and the Bible lands. The Rushville women also bought some stock for other importers.

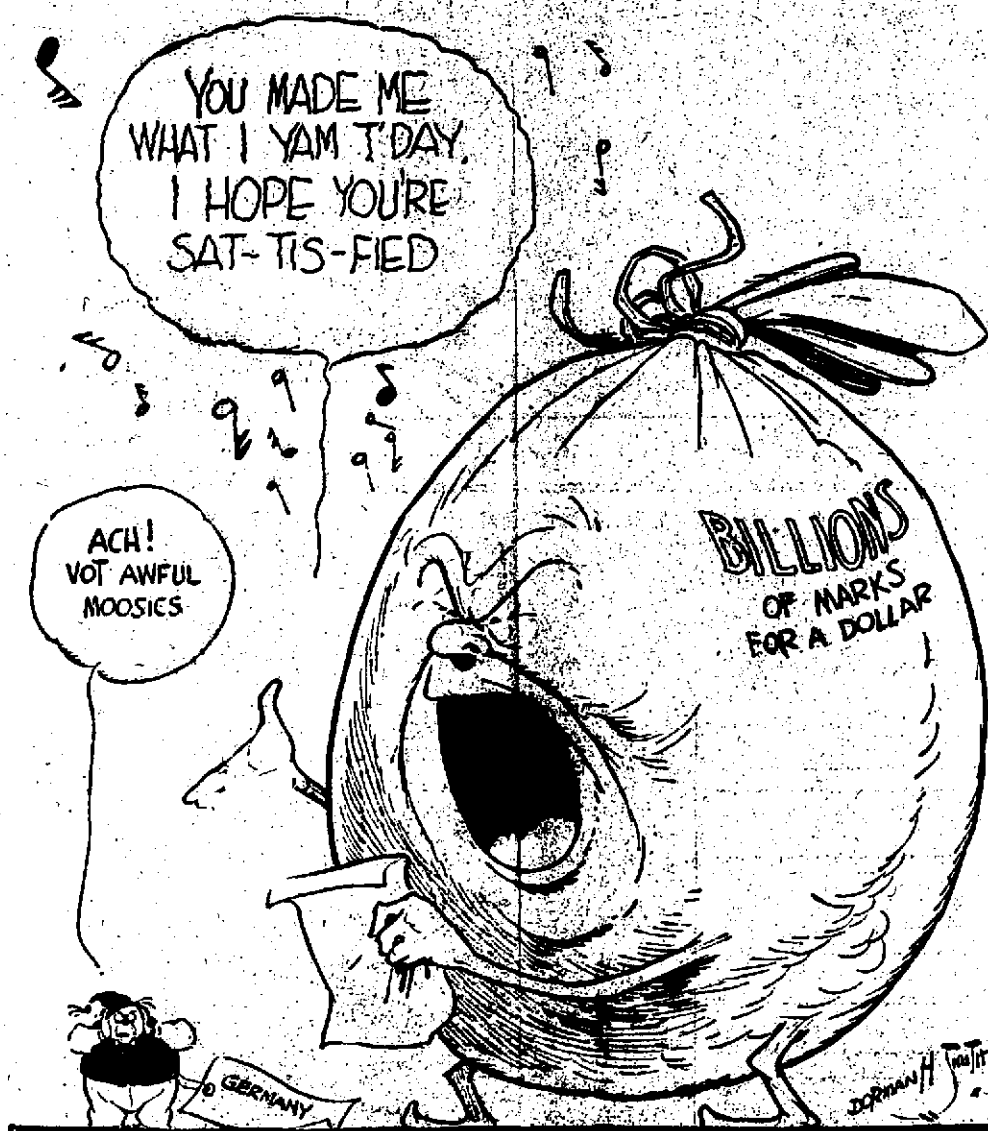

As the steamship approached Yokohama, Miss Winnifred Muir said, passengers were unable to understand what the iron work out in the sea was, but they found when the boat docked that it was the frames of automobiles that people had driven into the sea to escape the flames. Others rushed into the water after the first shock, standing in the sea up to their neck, and when the shore sank eight feet, thousands saved from the flames were drowned.

The Misses Muir heard first-hand stories of the horrifying experiences of those who passed through the disaster and saw the havoc caused by the earth tremors in Yokohama, where no building remains standing except the tower erected to commemorate the opening of the port of Yokohama. The Japanese regard this as portentous.

"The Japanese people act as if they were stunned by the blow," said Miss Winnifred Muir. "We were told that they never showed their feelings, never gave evidence of their grief, even when their relatives were killed and their savings of a lifetime were destroyed, but they were slow to recover. It was four days after the disaster before the Japanese people began to search for bodies and clear

Collections Will Have To Average
$35,500 If All Are Paid

With only a week remaining to pay taxes, without a penalty being invoked, taxes still due on the fall installment at the opening of business at the county treasurer's office this morning amounted to $248,500. This means that collections will have to average $35,500 a day if taxes are paid in full as there are seven more days of the taxpaying season, counting today.

Collections Saturday amounted to $15,156.34, bringing the total paid on the fall installment to $191,494.56.

The treasurer's office will be open Friday and Saturday night of this week and Monday night of next week to accommodate those who cannot call during the day.

Of His Life

EMPLOY OF THE BOX FACTORY

Amassa Bundy, age 75 years, well known resident of Ripley township, died this morning at four o'clock at his home near Carthage, following an illness of 9 months with leakage of the heart. The deceased was born March 5, 1848 near Gwynneville and had spent almost all of his life in Ripley township.

He had been employed for 17 years at the box factory in Carthage. He was married in 1875, and his widow survives. Besides the widow, he is survived by seven children, who are Earl of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Mrs. Myrtle McKinnon of Koopena, Idaho; Arle of Lawton, Oklahoma; Ora of Ogden, Utah; Warren of Gary; Wilma of Carthage and Loren of Pyatt, Ark. All children are expected home for the services.

The funeral will be some time Thursday at the Methodist church in Carthage, in charge of the Rev. Merritt Leachman, and definite arrangements will be announced later.

ONE LOCAL BANK A BIDDER

The $24,000 bond issue for the purchase and improvement of Memorial park was sold this afternoon in the council chamber to the Meyer-Kiser bank of Indianapolis at a premium of $145.50.

The Rushville National bank, the only local institution that offered a bid, was seven dollars lower in the list with a big of $138.50. The local bank was the successful bidder a month ago, when the bonds were sold, but the sale was not held legal at that time on account of faulty advertising.

The other bidders today besides the two mentioned were the Fletcher-American Company of Indianapolis for $33; the Thomas D. Sheerin Company of Indianapolis for $107; and The Union Trust Company, also of Indianapolis, for $144.

The bond sale was authorized for the purpose of buying and improving the additional 34 acres of park land acquired by the city from Ed Churchill, and which adjoins the present city park to the north.

MISS EMMA GORDON EXPIRES

Former Dry Goods Store Clerk Ex-
pires At Home Here Today

Miss Emma Gordon, age 74 years, died this morning at eleven o'clock at her home, 115 North Morgan street, death resulting from a three weeks illness of a complication of diseases.

Miss Gordon was a native of Franklin county, but had spent the greater portion of her life in this city. Besides a half brother, Taylor Gordon of Shelbyville, she is survived by a cousin, Henry Wilson of this city, with whom she made her home, and several other distant relatives survive. She was a clerk in Rushville dry goods stores for several years.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence in charge of the Rev. H. W. Harpelt, and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery.

ASKS JUDGMENT OF $8,200

W. H. Ames Sued Edgar M. Thompson
Et Al On Notes

W. H. Ames is plaintiff in a suit filed today in the circuit court against Edgar M. Thompson, et al, an action on a note and to foreclose a mortgage, and for the appointment of a receiver, demanding $8,500 judgment.

The suit involves the sale of a farm in this county and for which notes are said to be overdue in the transaction.

This morning in court Judge Sparks heard the case of Grace Utter against Charles H. Pettis, a suit to modify the divorce decree granted months ago, and the week the defendant was ordered reduced allowance paid the plaintiff by $4 a week to $2 a week.

SHOOTS GUARD, CAUGHT AFTER RUNNING BATTLE

John Chenoweth Wounds Penal Farm
Official When Refused Permission
to See Prisoner

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 29—After a running battle with a posse of Greencastle citizens and guards from the Indiana state farm, John Chenoweth, a former prisoner at the farm was placed in jail today charged with attempting to kill Arthur Fry, guard.

Chenoweth, who was discharged from the farm last September, returned to the farm early today and attempted to see one of the prisoners without getting permission. When Fry stopped him, he drew a gun and shot Fry in the leg, according to prison officials.

Chenoweth engaged in a running battle with prison guards as he fled. Citizens of Greencastle joined in the pursuit. He was captured a mile south of the farm after he had been wounded in the arm by a bullet from a guard's gun.

Chenoweth was sent to the farm from Lawrence county. Physicians said Fry's wound was not serious.

FOR APPENDICITIS

Miss Edna Wagoner, daughter of W. C. Wagoner, underwent an operation Saturday morning at the Dr. Sexton hospital for appendicitis. She is improving nicely.

TWO CALLS ARE ANSWERED

No Damage Done, But Firemen Re-
main to Watch Burning Leaves

Two calls were answered Saturday by the fire department, with no loss reported in either case. In the afternoon about 3:40 the chemical truck went to Sexton and Seventh streets, where people were reported to be burning leaves after the hours set aside for that purpose, and the leaves were said to be close to a building.

Saturday night shortly before eight o'clock a fire burned out at the Wiltse Company store in Main street, and firemen remained on the scene until danger had passed. The Saturday night crowd surged around the fire trucks, and it would have been a difficult thing for the company to have laid a line of hose had it been necessary.

M'CRAY INQUIRY RESUMED TODAY

Only One Witness Is Heard, How-

Unable To Continue Questioning

PROBE TO COVER WHOLE STATE

Governor McCray Gives Explanation
Of Dealings With State Board Of
Agriculture

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., October 29.—After one witness had been heard by the Marion county grand jury investigating the affairs of Governor McCray today, the probe was halted until tomorrow because Charles W. Moores, special prosecutor, in charge of the investigation, was not strong enough to push the inquiry further.

Identity of the one witness heard today was not revealed. "The investigation will be a long one," Moores said. "Witnesses from all parts of the state are to be heard and we must wait until they can come to Indianapolis."

It is known that the jury has already heard the stories of persons interested in notes endorsed by the governor.

Affidavits to the effect that some notes sold by McCray without the knowledge or consent of the persons whose names appear on them have been made in connection with suits pending against the governor at Kentland.

In addition to the question of notes, the grand jury may go into the sue by the Governor of funds

CHURCH DATING BACK TO CIVIL WAR BURNS

Blue River Baptist House of Worship Destroyed at Loss of From
$7,000 to $8,000

SPARKS SET ROOF ON FIRE

The Blue River Baptist church, in Center township, which dated back to the civil war, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon at a loss estimated at between $7,000 and $8,000.

The loss is total as no insurance was ever carried on the building, which was a very substantial structure, being constructed of yellow poplar.

The blaze is thought to have started from sparks falling on the dry shingle roof. Charles Brown, the janitor, built a fire in the church Saturday afternoon in preparation for a meeting to be held there that afternoon, and about two o'clock the roof was found in flames. It was impossible to save the structure as the fire was soon beyond control and no means of fighting the fire was available.

Plans were being considered today for rebuilding the church. It was erected in 1861 after a division in the congregation, just before the war, which resulted in a law suit. The winning side was represented in court by General P. A. Hackleman.

W. E. Gill of Cloverdale, who is a state representative, is the pastor of the church.

COUNTRY NEEDS VERY FEW LAWS

Reports Reaching Washington Indicate Sentiment Favors Enacting
Little Legislation

RAIL PROBLEM IS MAIN ONE

General Opinion Prevails, However
That No Changes Are Required
Now—Internationalists Busy

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Washington, Oct. 29. — Reports that come to Washington from different sections of the country indicate a desire that Congress shall do little in the way of legislation at the coming session. The last Congress enacted more constructive legislation than any other in history, particularly legislation demanded by the farming interests, and it is felt that the industries of the country should be given opportunity to adjust themselves to present conditions without being harassed by changes or threatened changes.

The transportation problem is one of the most important before the country today. There are some who would make this a subject of legislation, but the more general opinion is that no legislation whatever is needed. The only complaint is that regarding freight rates, particularly on wheat. There is no charge that the railroads are earning an exorbitant profit. In fact it is generally admitted that the profits are too small to invite money into railroad investments. But though there is no complaint that the railroads are earning too much, farmers want freight rates on wheat reduced and rates on some other commodities raised to make up for the reduction on grain. All this, however, is a matter of administration under the anti-trust Commerce Commission, and requires no legislation.

Taxation is another important subject discussed by the public, and the leaders in both the legislative and the administrative branch of the Government are considering whether legislation on that subject should be undertaken at the coming session. There is no dispute as to the desirability of reducing taxes. There is doubt, however, whether it will be practicable to make a reduction during the coming session. It is deemed certain by many that a bonus law will be enacted and whatever the nature of the bonus a material increase in public expenditures will be necessary. If a bonus law is to be enacted there will be an increase rather than a decrease in taxation. Those who believe that a bonus law will be passed discourage any effort to revise the tax laws. It is admitted that under the present scale of Government expenditures a very material reduction would be made in income taxes both for large and small taxpayers. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is opposed to

Mrs. Lewis Of Carthage Suffers
Torn Ligaments In One Leg And
Others Escape Injury

THREE AUTOMOBILES DAMAGED

Three automobiles figured in a mishap Sunday afternoon a mile west of Arlington, when they attempted to pass each other on a narrow bridge, and in the collision that took place, Mrs. Lewis of Carthage was badly injured, and received a severe injury to one leg, as ligaments around her ankle were torn loose.

The machine in which she was riding was badly damaged, it was said. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis moved to Carthage recently from St. Louis, and Mr. Lewis is associated in the management of the American Paper Products company at Carthage.

In one of the machines were five Indianapolis men, members of the Riverside A. A. football team that played at Arlington yesterday. The parties in the third car were not known, and only Mrs. Lewis sustained any injuries that required medical attention. All three machines, however, were damaged.

FISH AND GAME FUNDS INCREASE THIS YEAR

Increase of $20,600 is Caused in Part by Fine Co-operation of Hoosiers in Observing Laws

ISSUE 176,770 LICENSES

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 29.—Increase of more than $20,000 over last year in the funds of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation was reported today by George N. Mannfeld, chief of the division.

The increase is caused in part by the fine co-operation of Hoosiers in observing the fish and game laws Mannfeld declared.

Expenditures exceeded receipts by only $3,578.65, he said. The largest single item of expense was approximately $25,000 spent in building a new hatchery at Avoca in Lawrence County. Another $25,000 may be required to complete this addition to Indiana's fine chain of hatcheries.

A total of 176,770 hunting and fishing licenses was issued by the division last year, Mannfeld said, compared with 153,392 in 1922.

Fourteen counties registered decreases in the number issued. These are: Boone, Carroll, Clay, Clinton, DeKalb, Boone, Hendricks, Jasper, Miami, Perry, Putnam, Ripley, Starke and Wayne.

up the wreckage, but people of other nationalities, though giving way to their feelings during the catastrophe, were quick to join in rescue work.

The Rushville women were very proud of their country because United States destroyers were the only ones that showed absolutely no partiality in extending relief, the Japanese aiding the Japanese only and the British navy showing some favoritism for their own people.

One of the most miraculous escapes from death was that of the Mexican consul to Yokohama, and his family of seven. They returned to America on the same boat with the Misses Muire.

The Mexican family had been in Yokohama only a few days before the earthquake and had been quarantined at the leading hotel until a few days before the disaster, when they moved to the home of a British woman. Only the Mexican consul and his mother-in-law were in the house when it crumbled, but they escaped only by a miracle. Everyone in the hotel where they had been staying was killed. All of their clothing and silverware were stolen by Japanese.

An American woman related an unusual experience to the Misses Muire. She and a friend were in the business district and were just about to enter a store when the first shock came, and were thrown to the street. The American woman rushed to her home for her infant child, expecting to find it crushed by falling beams. After a long search, the baby was found in the Japanese nurse's lap, safe and uninjured, but the nurse, in bending over to protect the child, had been struck by a falling debris and her neck broken.

"People in buildings rarely escaped," said Miss Winnifred Muire. "Those who happened to be in, the streets were the only ones, with rare exceptions, who were not killed. While we were in Yokohama, people were standing at the scenes of their former homes or places of business, guarding their land. It was pitiful to see rude wooden slabs erected in piles of debris, stating that a certain person had been killed on that spot."

The Misses Muire talked to an American boy who was in Shanghai when the earthquake came, and hurried to Yokohama where his family was. He searched for days and finally recognized his father's automobile by the license number. Nothing was left but the frame, and the boy learned that his father and sister had been burned to death in the machine, and were buried underneath it.

The Rushville woman talked to an American who fell in a crevice in the earth and was given air through a bamboo pole until he could be rescued. When dragged to the top of the earth, he was so badly scratched that he would not be recognized.

"The Japanese tried to suppress the news of the disaster, fearing attack from other nations," Miss Muire said. "They had the same notion when they insisted that American destroyers not enter their ports to assist earthquake sufferers. The destroyers went in anyway and the Japanese now probably have a different idea of Americans."

There are scarcely any people left in Yokohama, according to the Misses Muire, because they had no means of livelihood and there is no food and no shelter. Most of them fled to China.

The Misses Muire, by chance, met Edwin Funk, formerly of Warsaw, Ind., and a very good friend of theirs at Naples. He is serving an enlistment in the United States Navy and was on the Pittsburgh, a destroyer.

FUNERAL OF NINE VICTIM

Remaining Three Killed In Fire To Be Buried Tuesday

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 29.—Last rites for John Landis, one of the four victims of the Noah Hunt wagon mine fire near Staunton were held at his home near Eagles, Ind., today. His body was buried at the Paugh cemetery.

Services for the other victims will be held tomorrow. The funeral of Peter Batterman will be held here in the morning and services for Joe Hardy and his seven year old son, George, will be held in the afternoon. Belief was expressed today by rescuers that the men might have saved their lives by retreating to the rear of the workings. Bodies of the three men were found grouped about little George Hardy as if to shield him from the fumes of the fire. Death was caused by suffocation.

KLANSMEN TO BE ARRAIGNED

Alleged To Have Violated Anti-Mask Order At Portsmouth, O.

Portsmouth, Ohio, Oct. 29.—More than 200 members of the Ku Klux Klan were to appear in police court today to answer to charges of violating Mayor William M. Cableman's anti-mask order.

Special police blockaded a Klan parade marching to a church where they were to participate in the laying of a corner stone.

More than two hundred paraders, 187 of them said to be wearing the Klan regalia, were rushed to police station and ordered to appear for hearing today. They were charged with obstructing traffic.

Mayor Cableman had refused the Klansmen a permit to parade in regalia.

MOVIES

"Salomy Jane" At Princess

Some of the most talented and widely known players on the screen appear in Paramount's new picture, "Salomy Jane," a George Melford production based on the famous story by Bret Harte, which will be the feature at the Princess Theatre for two days, beginning today.

Jaqueline Logan, a former Follies girl, plays the name role. Her love for the great out-of-doors particularly adapted her for this photoplay of pioneer life in California in the days of '49. Many human touches of quaint humor are woven into the fabric of this romantic screen play by George Fawcett, who plays the role of "Yuba Bill," a stage-coach driver.

Maurice Flynn, Yale graduate and college athlete, takes the part of "The Man," a stranger in the little mining settlement whose mission is unknown and who is a scene of gripping tragedy becomes the sweetheart of Salomy Jane.

"The Man" is accused of holding up the stage-coach and is about to be led away to be hanged by the Vigilantes when Salomy Jane, moved by a strange impulse, kisses him good-bye. Red Pete, proven to be one of the hold-up men, is hanged but the stranger escapes. On returning to thank Salomy for her kindness, he meets an old enemy, Baldwin.

In the fight, Baldwin is shot from ambush by another man. Salomy lends the stranger some of her father's clothes that he may get out of the country. This leads Larabee, an enemy of Salomy Jane's father, to shoot at the stranger Larabee's killed by a bullet from the stranger's rifle. As he dies, he confesses that Baldwin, now dead was Red Pete's partner in the stage robbery.

Regulation vs Destruction

The Supreme Court of Illinois has rendered an important decision in the case of a motor bus company seeking to operate in competition with electric railways.

The opinion of the court contains certain truths showing the effect of duplicating transportation facilities and destroying real service.

The bus company wanted a franchise to operate in certain towns with considerable population, which was opposed by the electric railroad system connecting those towns.

After a full showing, the lower court held that the operation of the bus line was not a necessary transportation facility, although granted by a public service commission.

On appeal, the Supreme Court holds that it is not the policy of the public utility law of Illinois to promote competition as a means of providing service.

It holds that where one company can serve the public conveniently and efficiently, to grant a competing franchise is to make the public pay more if both companies are to earn a fair return on their investment.

The court says that to authorize bus lines to carry passengers at a lower rate in the same territory where an electric line is charging a reasonable rate is against public interest.

It says a public service commission has no right to make an order regulating a public utility which amounts to a confiscation of its property.

Land Armaments

Capitals of Europe are agreed that there is little hope for a cut in land armaments at this time. While London is said to strongly favor such a step, she recognizes that the time for this action is not opportune. The continent is an armed camp.

France, in her present situation, could ill afford to weaken to any appreciable extent her land forces. England, with the Turk experiment fresh in mind, could well hesitate before effecting drastic cuts in her armies. Russia, the colored man of the woodpile, cannot be consulted because she is not a member of the family of nations. Italy, at the peak of a popular wave of territorial aggrandizement, is in no mood to pass by an advantage so easily gained. Greece would be foolish to economize. Only the United States is ready and willing for the step.

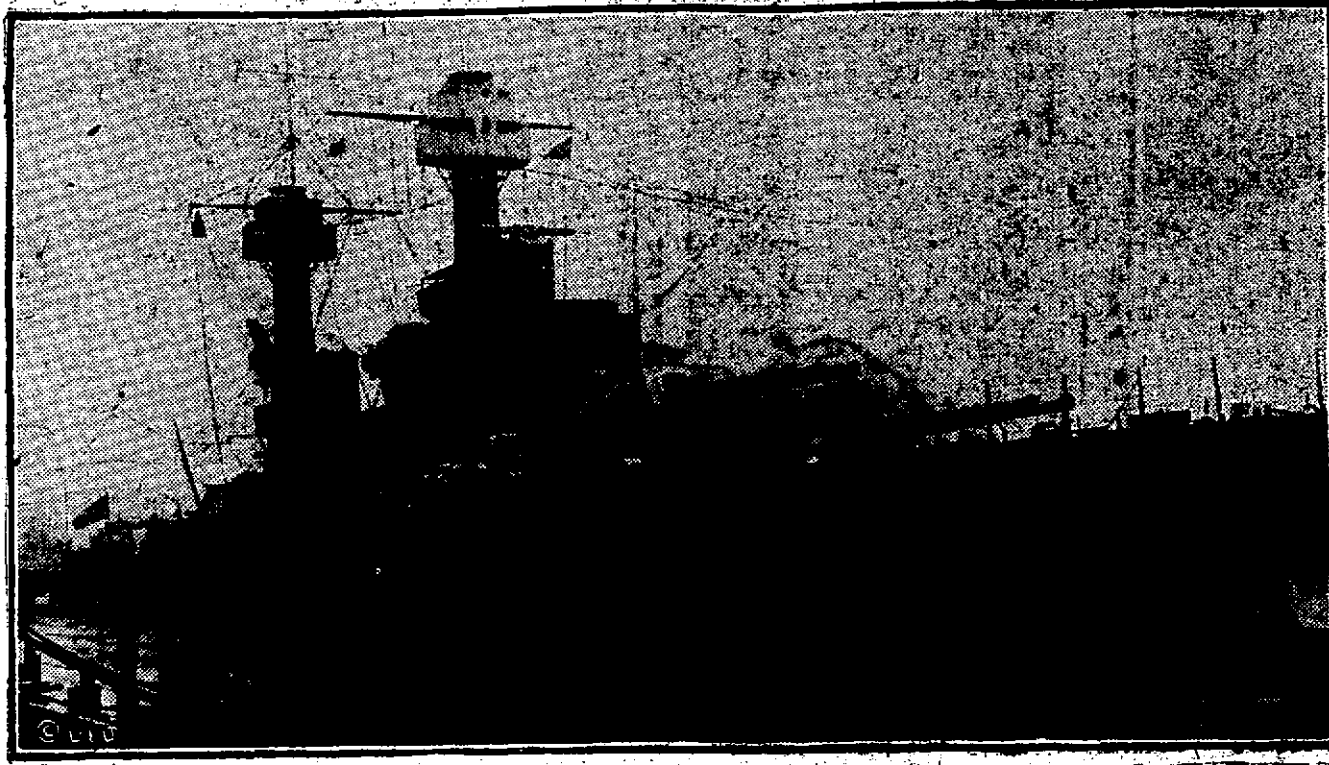

"The time is not opportune." It took a grim war and the loss to millions of lives to make the Washington naval act possible. Must it take another such demonstration of barbarism before the land conference becomes a reality?

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment insurance is being experienced with by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of Chicago. The union has reached an agreement with employers whereby an insurance fund is created from which unemployment insurance amounting to forty percent of the average full time weekly wage will be paid the worker for his period of idleness up to five weeks, the amounts not to exceed twenty dollars a week. These unemployment payments, however, will not be given for idleness caused by strikes.

Great Britain in 1912 passed a compulsory unemployment act and

As it is, the conflagration has resulted in a $10,000 loss, but the people here are congratulating themselves that the town was saved at all. About one o'clock fire broke out in the old Taylor store, the principal business house in Manila. It being in the heart of the business district and the thriving little town being handicapped in the way of fighting fire, a desperate battle against great odds was waged and only by the heroic effort of every inhabitant of the place, was adjoining property saved.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions that make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful and interesting.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a practice of reading the advertisements. They are daily lessons in economy.

CRUCIAL GAMES IN
BIG TEN THIS WEEKFIRST GAME ON THE NEW FLOOR

Remodeling of Graham Annex Gymnasium Will be Completed by Friday Night

BROOKVILLE COMING HERE
Three Contests For Opening Bill, Including Second And Girls Team Games

The Rushville high school basketball team will put in final practice this week in preparation for the opening game, when Brookville will come here as their opposition, and on the card for the opening night will be three games.

The girls from the local high school will figure in the opening, but their opponent is not known, as two teams are wanting to play here, and a selection will be made between one of these teams.

The R. H. S. seconds will tackle the Brookville seconds in the 7:30 game, and the big contest of the evening will be played at 8:15.

The work of remodeling the gymnasium is nearing completion, and the game will be played in the Graham Annex school, and not at the Modern Appliance as stated a few days ago. An entire new floor has been built in the gym, and this work will be completed by the middle of the week.

Coach John Swain has been drilling his squad for several weeks, and those who have seen the team work out in practice, declare that the team will go big in the games, and a record crowd is expected for the opening night.

The second team is said to be even stronger than last year, as a big force of candidates is available for the team.

The seat reservation plan has been withdrawn, and no seats will be reserved, as there was said to be no demand for the $10 tickets.

The second team's schedule has not been completed, but a list of the first six games is announced. Other games with Richmond, and other cities are on the list later in the season. The schedule for the first six weeks is as follows:

Nov. 2—Brookville here.
Nov. 9—Hagerstown here.
Nov. 16—At Morristown.
Nov. 23—At Spiceland.
Nov. 28—Milroy here.
Nov. 30—At Newcastle.

Chicago And Illinois, Leading Big Ten Title Race With 2 Victories Each, Meet At Urbana

MICHIGAN TO PLAY HAWKEYES

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Big Ten football leaders went into hard practice sessions this week in preparation for crucial games of the 1923 season next Saturday.

Chicago and Illinois, leading the title race with two victories each, meet this week-end at Urbana. The game traditionally one of the hardest fought contests of the mid-west, will put one of the teams out of the running. Illinois by virtue of its defeat over Northwestern was a slight favorite to win. Chicago found difficulty in nosing out a victory over Northwestern a week ago.

Michigan with one win and no defeats faces a hard fight at Iowa. The Hawkeyes after dropping an early season game to Illinois, were a rejuvenated team when they sent Ohio State down to a 20 to 0 defeat Saturday. Michigan, although picked for northwest honors this year may find difficulties in stopping the Hawkeyes attack.

Wisconsin has an open date. Minnesota takes on the lowly Purple of Northwestern and the other members of the Big Ten will be engaged in tests with non-conference eleven.

K. OF P. WORK TO BEGIN

The Knights of Pythias will meet Monday night at which time the active work for the fall and winter season will begin, and a class of 7 candidates will take the rank of Page. All members are urged to attend and renew their loyal interest in the lodge.

On Thursday night the Rush County coaches' basketball team opens its net season with the Waldron independents at Waldron, in the new gymnasium there. The coaches of the schools of Rush county have been shaping into good form during the past few weeks, and are now ready to take the floor.

With the cast of old college and independent men, such as composes the personnel of the team, a real season of independent ball is about to be offered to Rush county fans. All home games will be played in Rushville at the Modern Appliance building, and fans here will be assured of fast playing.

The teams has such players as the following: Headlee, former Rushville high school star and later of DePaul; Means of Moscow, Franklin college player and who also is captain of the coaches' team; Patterson of Webb, formerly of Purdue; Seales of Raleigh and Royalty of Milroy, of Fairview A. C. fame and of Oakland college; Jinks of New Salem, formerly of Hanover; Hyatt of Arlington, formerly of Earlham, and Hinchman of Glenwood, who formerly played with the Fairview team.

The opening game at Rushville will be announced soon, and in the meantime the team will play away from here. The game at Waldron Thursday night is expected to be a good one.

COUNTRY NEEDS
VERY FEW LAWS

a bonus law and who seems to assume that no such law will be passed, is working on a revision downward of income tax rates.

Members of Congress who are of the internationalist turn of mind and who believe that the United States should "do something for Europe" will probably have measures to present proposing something definite in the way of extension of Federal aid to nations across the Atlantic. What these measures will be is as yet unknown but there seems to be a general view that legislation of this kind should not be passed. It is felt that encouragement of the idea that Europe can look to America for support will retard rather than hasten the return of European industries to the paths of peace.

Although Democrats for purely partisan reasons are still attacking the Republican tariff law and will perhaps urge changes in tariff rates there is a general feeling throughout the country that with practically all industries operating at full capacity and more jobs available than there are men to fill them, re-opening of tariff discussion would do much harm and could certainly do no good. It is felt that with prosperous conditions in most lines of industry, the less legislation or agitation for legislation, the better it will be for the country.

Umpiring Poor in 1923 Series

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 29.—When the four umpires who worked in the world's series complained to Commissioner Landis that their services in a million-dollar series were worth more than $2,000 each, the subject of umpiring in general came up for discussion in a group of baseball men, including several major and minor league managers, coaches and players.

In 1921 and 1922 the four umpires who worked in the world's series were given a sum equivalent to the money received from the series by one winning player and one losing player. The umpires divided this sum four ways.

During the last meeting of the major leagues this method of paying the umpires was abolished and it was decided that the officials in the future should be paid a flat sum of $2,000 each.

This new plan represented a loss of about $800 each to the umpires, who had believed they were to get the same pay that the umpires were given in the two previous years. Splitting the share of a winning and losing player, the four umpires would have received about $2,800 each.

Commissioner Landis refused to amend or change the new rule and he insisted that the letter of the law be followed which entitled the umpires to $2,000.

In discussing the controversy, most of the baseball men agreed that the umpires should have been paid on the same scale that prevailed in the past two years, and they agreed that when the wages were changed for the umpires the law-makers of baseball should have made some reforms to regulate the method of choosing the umpires for the most important of all baseball games.

Under the plan which now prevails, the presidents of the two major leagues follow the plan of giving the umpires their turn in getting a cut of the world's series money. This naturally means that ability is not considered in selecting the official, although it will be argued by the league presidents that all of their umpires are competent and good enough to work in a world's series.

But they are not!

Athletic Club Defeated Sunday by Riverside A. A. Team of Indianapolis, 12 to 0

BAD JUDGMENT COSTS 6 POINTS

The Arlington Athletic club lost another hard fought game Sunday to the Riverside A. A. team of Indianapolis, 12 to 0. The teams fought as hard as any that ever have played on the Athletic field for the last few years. They were evenly matched until late in third quarter when bad judgment of the Arlington back field on a punt by Riverside, put the ball on Arlington's one yard line where Riverside pushed the ball over.

In the 4th quarter Arlington began to weaken and Riverside by some forward passing and good end runs, put over another touchdown just as time was called, making the count 12 to 0.

Both Riverside's extra points were blocked. The Riverside team had a good shifty back field and several trick plays which were hard to stop. Sparks punting for Arlington was the feature of the game, making some very long punts. The Arlington team is not a bit discouraged and will be out again next Sunday fighting hard when they meet the Brookside Cubs, another fast team of Indianapolis.

MOSCOW SWAMPS NEW
SALEM, BUT GIRLS WIN

Shows Superior Strength At All Stages of Game, Veteran Squad Being Able to Score at Will

NEW SALEM GIRLS WIN, 9 TO 8

New Salem and Moscow high schools divided honors Saturday night at basketball, on the floor at Blue Ridge, when the Moscow varsity team swamped the New Salem varsity by the score of 45 to 7, in the main bout of the evening, but in the preliminary show, the New Salem girls had the best of the argument, by defeating the Moscow girls 9 to 8.

The girl's game was exciting in all quarters and was not won by New Salem until the final whistle.

The Moscow boys showed superior strength in all stages of the game, and their veteran squad could almost register goals at will.

Last Friday night the Moscow second team was victorious in a game with Waldron, 19 to 7, played at Waldron, and the Waldron first team defeated Fairland 23 to 4 in the main game.

The line-up and summary of the game Saturday night is as follows:
New Salem 7
Alexander F W. King
B. Hungerford F H. Wills
Gosnell C K. Wilson
Tillison G Leforge
H. Hungerford G H. Wilson
Substitutions: Moscow, Coers, Whisman, Mahren, Casey, Reber, Hurst; New Salem, Stamm, D. Wilson, Scott and Stiers. Field goals, Alexander 2, B. Hungerford 3, Gosnell 0, Tillison 5, Whisman, Casey, W. King, K. Wilson. Foul goals, Moscow 3 out of 8; New Salem 3 out of 15. Referee Netherlands.

Farrell Picked All Winners

Henry L. Farrell, sports editor of the United Press, was one of the few sports writers who did not pick the New York Giants to win the world's series from the New York Yankees.

After a series of articles in which the two teams were compared, position by position, and in which the "superiority complex" of the Giants was explained as their greatest asset, Farrell concluded the final article, which appeared on October 9, with this prediction:

"The Giants, it is true, have many reasons and causes why they should win, but we do not believe they will."

In a series of articles last April, in which he discussed the prospects of the sixteen major league clubs in the pennant races, Farrell called the turn in the National League, and he picked the one-two positions in the American League.

In a story, released for April 16, Farrell predicted that the National League clubs would finish as follows:

New York, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago, Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia.

With the exception of the Cubs, who finished fourth, and the Cards, who finished fifth, Farrell picked the teams for the position in which they finished.

Discussing the teams separately, in the same April 16 story, Farrell called the turn on the Cubs, however, by saying:

"St. Louis is put in the first division merely because the Cards finished there last season and because Branch Rickey's club is less of an experiment than the Cubs. The Cards look doubtful and the Cubs dangerous, and it would be no great surprise if Bill Killifer should get his Cubs in fourth place."

In the American League, Farrell predicted, in a story, released for April 17, that the teams would finish as follows:

New York, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Washington and Boston.

They finished.

New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston.

In commenting upon Washington, Farrell said that Donie Bush would land Washington much higher if Clarke Griffith let him alone to run the team and that the Browns might drop to sixth place if they didn't have Sisler for at least a half a season.

Gary — Announcement in a newspaper here read: "Members of Gary Dunc No. 1, Order of Sand Fleas, will hold a meeting tomorrow night at the Commercial Club. Most Vicious Sand Flee Verne B. Young will preside."

Plymouth — The Wide Awake Fire company extinguished a roof blaze in the Kaufman home here recently.

CHURCH OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Week Of Celebration At Wesley M. E. Church A Success

The week of celebration at the Wesley M. E. church, held last week, was pronounced a big success by the pastor, the Rev. C. T. Parker. The church was built 47 years ago last week.

The program that was carried out during the week came to an end Sunday night, and at noon approximately 200 persons were present for the "birthday dinner" that was given. The contributions for a birthday present, given by members and friends of the congregation, amounted to $315. One addition to the church was reported. The pastor and officers of the church today extended thanks to those who assisted during the week, in making the affair a success.

IS NOT DISTURBED OVER ASSERTIONS

Washington Believes Advisory Conference Of Experts On Reparations Will Be Held

PREMIER POINCAIRE TALKS

French Leader Declares France Will Never Consent To Discuss Sum Fixed In May, 1921

(By United Press) Washington, Oct. 29.—The American government is not disturbed over the week-end declarations of Premier Poincare of France and believes that the advisory conference of experts on reparations proposed by Secretary of State Hughes will be held, it was declared by a high authority of the administration today.

By JOHN DEGANDT (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Oct. 29.—Premier Poincare has drawn the eye-teeth of the proposed advisory conference of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations in the opinion of well-informed quarters here today.

His speech at Sampigny and subsequent official communications, it was said here today, have headed off what was believed to be an attempt to reduce the total of the German reparations debt and a proposal to get France and Belgium out of the Ruhr.

"France will never consent to discuss again the total fixed in May, 1921," a communique said, "and will never reduce the amount fixed by the reparations commission."

In his speech at Sampigny the premier declared France would remain in the Ruhr until totally paid. He pictured Germany as a hypocrite seeking to dodge her debts while illegally and secretly forming a huge army, air fleet and ammunition factories for a war of imperialistic revenge.

As pointed out previously by the United Press, France's acceptance was accompanied by reservations which would limit the scope of any international inquiry to a fresh investigation of how to make Germany pay.

HELD IN JAIL WITHOUT BOND

Wabash Man Shot Friend in Abdomen With Popcorn Grains

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 29.—Russell Jones, 27, is held in jail here today without bond for shooting Albert Hummer, 17, with a charge of popcorn grains from a shotgun.

Hummer was taken to a hospital in a serious condition where it was found that some of the grains had penetrated his abdomen.

Jones explained he was putting on a Halloween celebration, when he shot Hummer and that he did not intend to hurt him.

Phi Psi House Is Opened

Greencastle, Oct. 29.—Members of the DePauw chapter of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity have moved into their new $70,000 chapter house, which is said to be one of the finest fraternity houses at DePauw.

A housewarming for alumni was held Saturday on "Old Gold" day to welcome in the new quarters all the graduates of the chapter who came back for the DePauw-Franklin Football game.

The old Phi Psi house was burned down five years ago, since which the chapter has rented a home on Anderson street.

FIRE AT WEBSTER LAKE

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 29.—Fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated today at $10,000 at Webster lake, when the annex of the Yellow Banks Hotel, a pool room and two cottages, were burned. Fire departments from Warsaw and Winona Lake kept the blaze from spreading.

Still Possible To Live On Less Than 90 Cents Daily

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—It is still possible to live on less than 90 cents a day.

This price bought three square meals a day, a good bed every night and all the necessities of life, according to completed figures on costs at the summer practice camp for civil engineering students at Purdue university.

The report shows that all living expenses of the 120 students who attended the eight week camp at Pentwater, Mich., during June and July averaged $49.50 for the entire period or approximately 90 a day. The student paid $75 at the beginning of the camp, $25.50 of which was returned to them for all transportation expenses.

The fact that they did not starve is shown by a typical menu: Breakfast: sweet cherries, breakfast food (eight kinds) fried eggs, bread, butter, jam, milk and coffee; Lunch: cold meat, fried potatoes, lima beans jam, rasins, cookies, bread, butter and milk; supper: roast beef, mashed potatoes; brown gravy, corn, jam peanut butter, bread, butter, strawberries cake and milk. An old hotel was rented and fitted up for living quarters.

TO IMPROVE CITY PARK

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 29.—Plans are already being made for extensive improvements for the city park grounds. The city engineer is making a survey of the proposed improvements, and each organization aiding in the work will be given a certain unit of the park to supervise and see that the improvements are carried through.

OIL PRODUCTION GROWS

Indianapolis, Ind., October 29.—Production of crude oil in the U. S. for one month now exceeds the oil produced the entire year of 1900, Theodore Kingsbury, assistant state geologist, said here today. For July 65,247,000 barrels of oil were produced, compared with 63,620,000 for the twelve months of 1900, Indiana produced 90,000 barrels in August.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

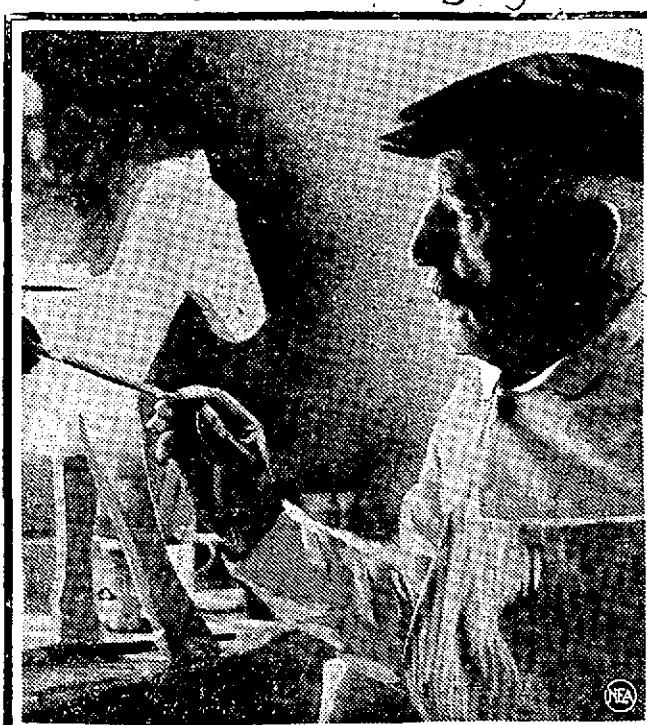

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractive tiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1828, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

IMPROVEMENT IN STEEL INDUSTRY

October Business Shows Increase Of About Ten Per Cent Over The September Business

IS BAROMETER OF TRADE

Railroads Withhold Large Orders Presumably For Price Declines According To Forecast

By BRUCE SHORT
(President, The Engineering Sales Corporation)
(Written For United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., October 29.—The general attitude of the steel industry is much better in many respects than it has been for some weeks. That the one business shows an increase of about ten per cent over September indicates a better condition for all business. Inasmuch as steel is considered a barometer of trade.

This optimistic trend does not apply to all branches of the industry, as the strip mills are operating at only about thirty per cent capacity and the pig iron market continues to decline. Orders in these branches are being taken at fifty cents to a dollar below the prices prevailing last week.

As forecast last week, the railroads are withholding their large orders presumably for price declines. No price concessions have been made yet however and it appears there

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Rushville people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. John Henry of 616 W. 3rd St., Rushville, endorsed Doan's many years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I had trouble with my kidneys and the secretions passed too frequently and I had to get up several times during the night," says Mr. Henry. "It was painful to pass the secretions which were highly colored and contained sediment. My back was weak and lame. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store and they relieved me." (Statement given August 25, 1915.)

On November 4, 1929, Mr. Henry added: "I still have the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally and always get the same results."

will be no general change in the price levels, with the possible exception of isolated orders. A hopeful condition for the farmers is seen in the fact that re-rolled stock, especially in light rails, has declined in value and is now quoted as low as $1.80 per hundred pounds f. o. b. Pittsburgh. The change in price of this material was good news for the farmers and the manufacturers of agricultural implements who use re-rolled stock in large quantities.

Manufacturers of agricultural implements are still somewhat discouraged, however over the outlook for the farmer. They say farm demand for their product will not return to a normal basis until 1935. The reduction in price of re-rolled steel will in a measure help bring normalcy closer for agricultural interests and that business directly affected by the condition of the farmer.

The Court's Dignity

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 29.—Someone has to suffer when there's too much laughter in Federal Judge Atwell's court here.

"Every time I hear the law coming, I run," said Eddie Conaster, during his trial on charges of violating the prohibition law.

A chorus of laughs from the spectators greeted Eddie's remark.

Everyone who laughed, got up and leave this court room," ordered Judge Atwell.

No one stirred.

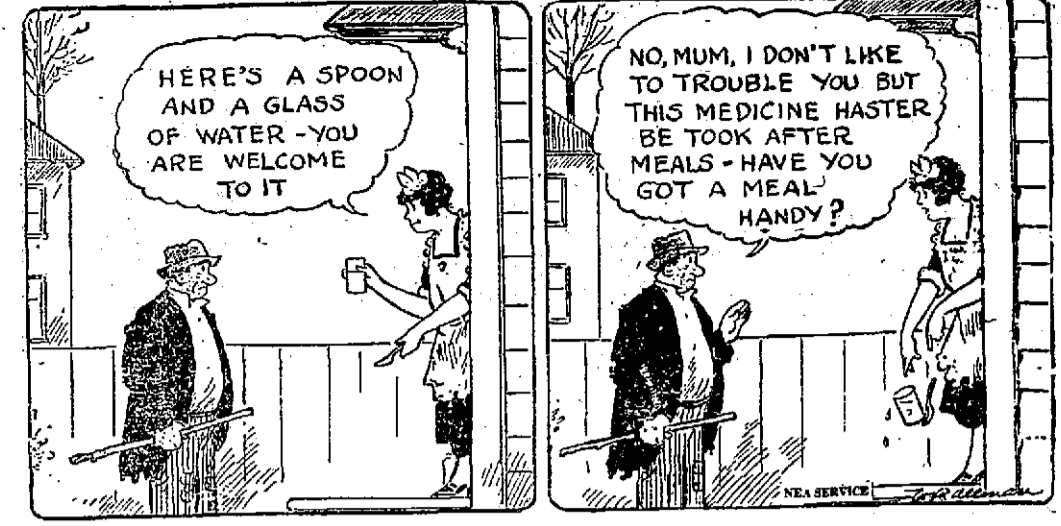

The judge repeated his command. Still no one made a move to leave.

Douglas Campbell, Deputy United States Marshall, glanced around. Singling out a spectator, Campbell ordered the man to leave.

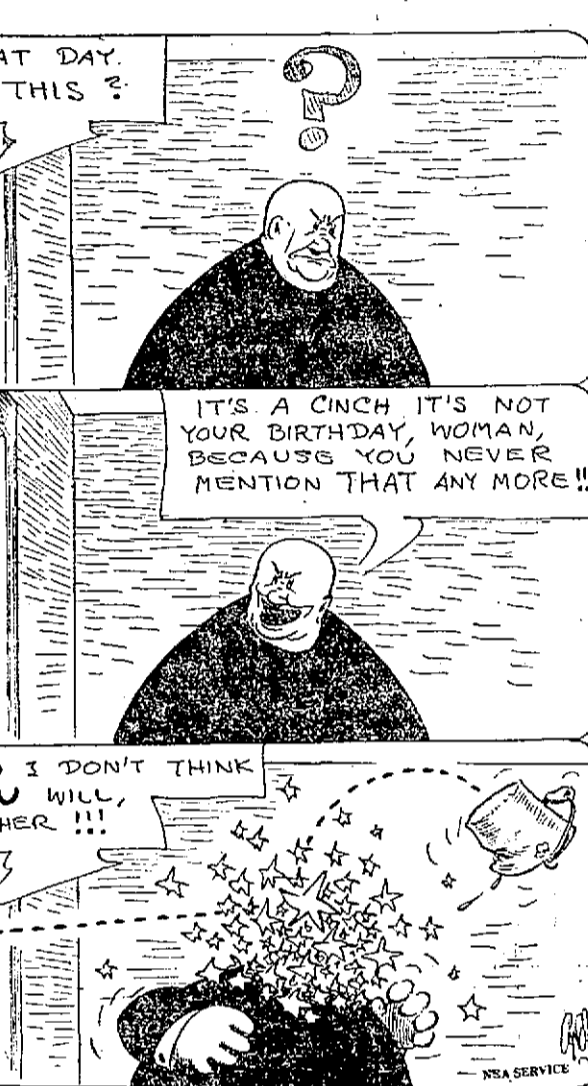

"What's all the row," asked the surprise man. "I was sound asleep." But he left.

TRAVELED 1,000 MILES ON 35 CENTS

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 29.—Nathan Pierce, 19-year-old El Paso youth, with a half dollar in his jeans, grew tired of his job in his brother's garage and set out for parts other than Southwestern Texas. Kansas City was his ultimate destination.

The youthful traveler rode passenger trains—billed baggage—as far as Amarillo, Texas. The sheriff housed him for one night and Nathan started out afoot the next day.

He worked for farmers for his board and room while his brother, A. L. Pierce, garage owner, had been hunting the desert wastes of El Paso for some trace of Nathan.

Finally, Nathan, employer, a farmer, learned that the big brother in El Paso was hunting for Nathan.

So the farmer notified authorities and Nathan was returned to his old job. He arrived in El Paso with 15 cents of his original half dollar capital and had traveled 1,000 miles during the four weeks he was gone.

IN THE CHURCHES SUNDAY

Many Masters In This Life

"One Is Your Master — Even Christ," was the subject of the discourse given by the Rev. H. W. Hargett at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. "The subject was taken from Matthew 23:10. The first part of the text is true for everyone," he said, "the second for those who pay the price. One is your Master, which one?"

"For in the complex life of ours there are many masters. Mastery is the law of life. In the realm of body, mind and spirit, the master is always present. Choosing a master is the chief end of man. As he chooses, so will he be not only all the days of his life here, but so far as we are able to tell forever and forever. God's plan for each life is that Christ shall be Lord and Master. To him every knee should bow and every tongue confess that he is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

"There are many rivals for supremacy in our lives. With many, self is the master. It need not be a wicked self."

"There are courser and finer shades of self will, that make impossible the mastership of Christ. Bad habits may rule. The throne of life may be occupied by some degrading appetite, so that it drives a man even while he struggles to be free. Love of money or love of pleasure may wither up the soul, till the noblest part of it lies in ruins. Prejudice may so master the soul that it is incapable of lofty and noble enthusiasms. The passing whims of life may be crowned in rapid succession. Fear, anger, desire of praise, may rule in turn. Here is the central sin from which all other sins begin. It is that of failing to enthroned Christ in that centre of our lives from which our motives spring. Our thoughts proceed and here all our deeds have their origin."

"Conversation is something more than assent to a creed. It is something more than a brief passing emotion. It is shifting the centre of life from self to Christ. It is enthroning him as Master of life. He who died to save lives to reign. Where Christ is Master he brings even the thoughts of our hearts into captivity to himself. No man nor nation is conquered till the mind is mastered."

Where Christ is master of the home, the children will not grow up willful, disobedient, going out into life as unfitted for its strife as soldiers sent to the front without the mastership of discipline and training."

"When Christ is master, business both in its aims and in its methods will be pleasing to Him. Make Christ Master and life can have no neutral territory. All its activities will come under His control. If we are His all our lives will bear witness to that glorious fact. One is your Master, which one? Answer, 'Even Christ.'"

The Christian's Money Creed

"The Christian's Money Creed," was the subject of the last of a series of Sunday morning sermons on Christian Stewardship at the First Baptist Church yesterday.

Four points were emphasized.

"1.—The Christian is under obligation to make as much money as he can. Contrary to much popular opinion the scriptures nowhere condemn the making of money. Of course, it is an axiom of the Christian's money creed that he shall make his money honestly. In carrying degrees the power to make money belongs to every man, and he is under solemn obligation to God to make all he can by his God-given talent."

"2.—He is obligated to spend his money properly. God is not glorified by half-fed, half-clothed children living in filth and squalor. Every man is under obligation to spend his money in such a way as to give his family, not only the bare necessities of life, but a fair share of life's comforts."

"3.—He is also under obligation to save money. No man has a moral right to come to old age dependent unless by reason absolutely beyond his control. Not careful foresight, but anxious care is condemned in the scriptures, and the best way to avoid anxious care is to use careful foresight."

"4.—He must give of his money. At this point one question is always raised. How much? The answer to that question will depend entirely upon how much you study the word of God in reference to money and pray for guidance. Surely everyone should give a tenth of his income toward the work of the kingdom of God, and many are able to give much more."

"Only as we recognize that our whole life belongs to God will we see our money properly and distribute it wisely."

The Mind of Christ

The text for the morning service was "But we have the mind of Christ." The sermon was by the pastor who said in part:

"God the Father revealed Himself through His Son. He was 'The Word of God.' The Son in turn revealed Himself to the world through Holy Writ. And as we are able to interpret the Word aright, so can we say with Paul 'We have the mind of Christ.' We have His mind."

"1. In regard to the Material World. As its Creator, He has told us many things. Made and upheld by the word of His power, it is to be used according to His will. He has shown (a) How it is to be acquired. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread. If any man will not work, neither shall he eat. All work is honorable and with brain or brawn every man shall live. He has shown (b) How it is to be possessed. No man is free to do as he may please even with his own. Even civil law recognizes this. God has the first claim and His glory must be given the right of way. Worldly goods must be held subordinate to spiritual considerations. He has shown (c) How the material world is to terminate. It is stored up for fire. The rocks shall melt with fervent heat. Out of nothing it came; into nothing shall it return."

"2. We have His Mind as to the Church. She has four functions: (a) It is to proclaim the truth. She is the pillar and the ground of the truth. She is a lamp set on a stand to give light. She is salt whose task is to preserve. (b) It is to observe His worship. The first four commandments guard that. In order, they define the object of worship, the manner of worship, and the time of worship. The Lord's prayer gives first place to the same idea. (c) It is to build christian character. It is the function of the church to instruct the mind, to attune the heart, and to discipline the will. (d) It is to prepare for the second coming of our Lord. As soon as the gospel shall have been preached in all the world then shall the end come. She has been promised success."

At the evening service, a gospel sermon was preached on Luke 9:23. "If any man will come after me let him deny himself, take up his cross daily and follow me." The almost universal desire to follow Christ was emphasized. It is respectable. It is profitable. It has a great future reward. The threefold requirement of the Master was stressed. This is "The King's Highway." It was opened up by a King, and is traveled only by those of the royal line. And it leads to God and home and heaven.

Better Citizenship

The great object of Christianity is to present every man perfect before the bar of God's judgment," said the Rev. Gibson Wilson, in his sermon Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church on the topic, "Christianity's Ambition." His text was "That we may present every man perfect in Christ," Colossians, 1:28.

"In doing this," the pastor continued, "every man becomes a better citizen before his fellow men. Think yourself into the meaning of these words, 'Every man perfect.' His defects are to be removed, his faults are to be erased."

"In every man becoming perfect, there is more than cleansing; there is also the development of the spiritual in his redemption."

"The doctrine of the Lutheran and Reformed churches, two great branches of the Protestant churches, is that life is never perfected in the flesh. Sin is never subdued and therefore we pray daily for forgiveness."

"How are we to attain unto this ambition?" the speaker asked.

"We must become acquainted with the great Christian doctrines and seek to make them a part of ourself. The words sin, repentance, redemption, salvation, adopting, resurrection and heaven are used too lightly."

"In this life we must develop within us the Christian grace, faith in God, hope of the life that is eternal, love toward man and God. We must cultivate humility, patience toward others, meekness, the spirit of gentleness, and long suffering toward the shortcomings of others."

"To attain this ambition, we must live in the enjoyment of Christian privileges, at peace with God, the enjoyment of his favor as adopted into his family. The joy of future inheritance is to be on our hearts. There must be discipline. The conscience must be educated."

"It takes toil to realize this ambition," the Rev. Mr. Wilson affirmed in conclusion. "To this end Paul labored, with zeal and energy, with Christ who is also working with patience and zeal in him."

"You have to give life energy, if you want to arouse the life energies in another. There is no magic word by which life is transformed. There is no mystic wand that can be used here."

"In this great reclamation work in which we are engaged with Paul and Christ, we must be collaborators, warning every man perfect in Jesus Christ."

For his evening services, the Rev. Mr. Wilson has been giving a series of studies on the Books of the Bible, which have been bringing forth most favorable comment. Sunday night he gave a study on the book of Nahum.
